Talks continue with sheriff

Carmichael reveals results

By HENRY CANTIN

The results of an initial investigation and survey by Romulus's administrative and legislative officials on providing the best available police protection for the Romulus community was announced this week by Mayor Hyle J. Carmichael.

Details of the city's inquiry on law enforcement other than its current police personnel, involves contractual law enforcement was the Wayne County Sheriff's Department.

Mayor Carmichael stressed the point that no official action has been taken by the city as yet and that the city council and his immediate staff are studying the principals and benefits of a contractual law enforcement for romulus as administered by the Wayne County Sheriff's Department.

He added that he and council members are listening to others on providing law enforcement for the community.

In answering criticism made by some city residents on the city seeking an outside law enforcement agency when the city has a police department of its own, Mayor Carmichael stated that he and council were not and do not intend to hide anything but were endeavoring to procure the "best available police protection" of the city and its residents.

He added that if and when such a contract is approved by city council, complete details will be presented to residents.

What it means to any community to have contractual law enforcement by experienced and well-trained officers was explained and detailed in a joint disclosure made last Friday by Mayor Carmichael and A. Frans Heideman, director, executive division of the Wayne County Sheriff Office.

Talks between the city and the county sheriff's representatives have been on a continuing basis since the first of August.

Heideman in commenting on the sheriff department's law enforcement facilities and staff of 500 officers reported.

particular requirements of any local community. It establishes, in effect, a partnership of the community and county to provide joint services at the least cost while both agencies retain the power of self determination and home rule, Heideman stated.

In Romulus, the sheriff's department now provides courtesy service that can be discontinued at anytime. Under a city-approved contract, the sheriff's personnel would provide continuous 24-hour service.

In the contract under discussion, Romulus would be provided with a sheriff's complement of 18 men to be headquartered in Romulus.

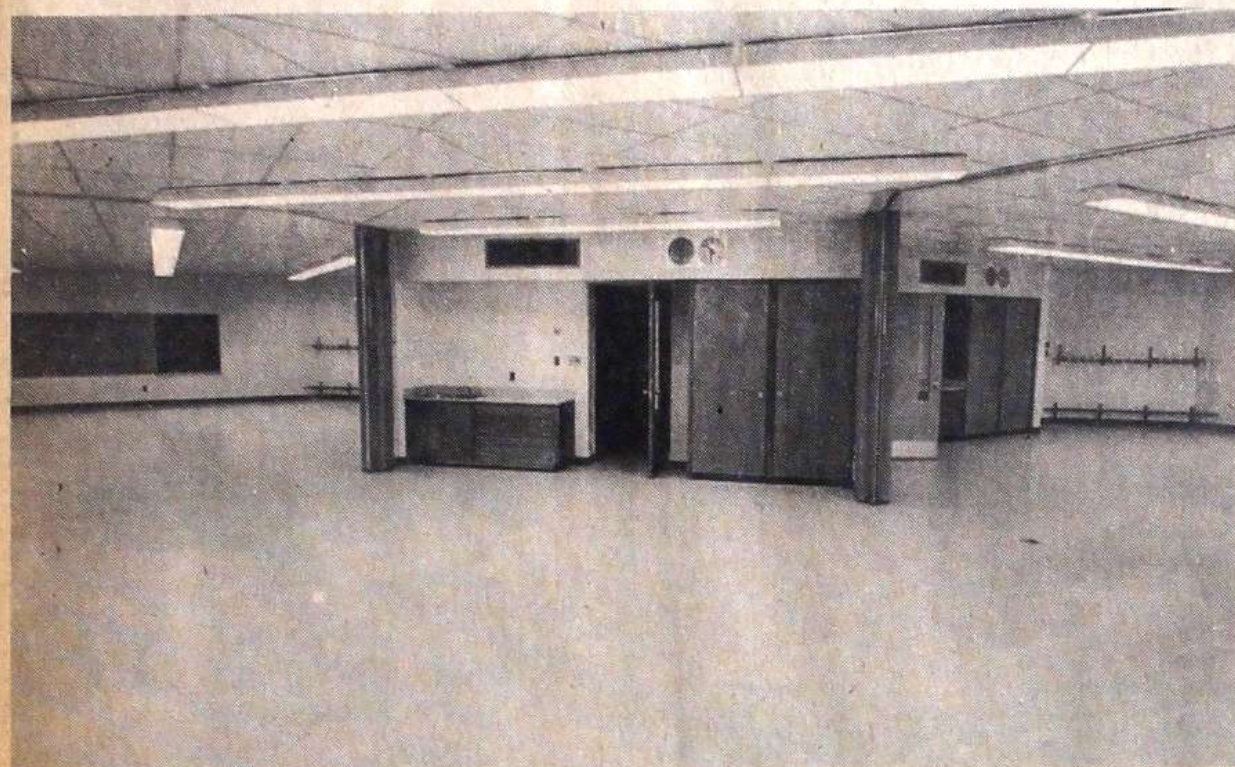

The services, equipment and personnel of the various units of the sheriff's office would also be constantly available to the city as well as specialized services.

Romulus is currently served by a police force headed by Police Chief Jacob J. Koch. It includes a sergeant, a dog warden, two office girls, a part time janitor and two auxiliary police officers.

The department's bargaining agent, the Romulus Police Officers Association, has a two-year contract approved by the old township board. It expires in July, 1972.

Heideman stated that current police officers, under the sheriff's contract, will be taken over by the sheriff's office, if they so desired. They would be probably used in other areas or units of the sheriff's department.

ONE OR THREE CLASSROOMS — The above scene is an interior view of an area in the new Merriman Elementary School for classroom activity. It can be used as one classroom or be made into three classrooms if school programs call for it. The new school facility opens Sept. 8. It is the eighth elementary school of the Romulus Community School District now in use.

City council adopts control ordinance

In the interest of public health, safety and welfare, Romulus City Council has unanimously adopted an ordinance providing for the regulation, licensing and control of large outdoor gatherings.

The provisions of the ordinance call for stricter controls on rock festivals such as the one held at Goose Lake, Mich., earlier this month.

It calls for local licensing of gatherings of more than 5,000 persons and for guarantees from promoters of adequate police, sanitary, medical and fire service.

The new and Romulus' first such ordinance, would empower local administrative officials to gain court injunctions to end the gatherings if drug laws are violated or the promoter's conditions are not met.

This ordinance, approved by city council at its Sept. 1 council session, is patterned in the main by one proposed at a special governor's conference on rock festivals held Aug. 22 at the Oakland County Building, Pontiac.

The proposed ordinance at the Pontiac conference was prepared by Governor William Milliken's legal staff and offered by Governor Milliken to a "standing-room audience" of 500 local officials to aid those communities "who don't know where to turn" when a promoter chooses their area for a gathering which could include violation of drug laws.

Romulus Councilman James C. Stewart attended the conference and made detailed reports of the conference discussions. He urged an immediate adoption of the ordinance or one similar to it.

At the Aug. 25 city council meeting following Stewart's report, councilmen instructed City Attorney John E. Young to draft an ordinance incorporating the main provisions of the governor's proposed ordinance along with amendments offered by various council members.

The ordinance adopted at the Sept. 1 session is published elsewhere in this issue.

The Goose Lake Rock Festival, held Aug. 7-9 drew 200,000 persons from all over the country to the Jackson site of Goose Lake.

Romulus's ordinance defines "outdoor assembly" as any event, attended by more than 5,000 attendants, all or any part of which includes a theatrical exhibition, public show, display, entertainment, amusement or at the exhibition, including, but not limited to musical festivals, rock festivals, peace festivals or similar gatherings.

It does not mean any event which is conducted or sponsored by a governmental agency or unit on publicly owned land or property; an event which is conducted or sponsored by any entity qualifying for tax exempt status, or any event held entirely within the confines of a permanently enclosed and covered structure.

Application for a license to conduct an outdoor assembly must be made on prescribed forms and 60 days prior to the outdoor assembly. A nonrefundable fee of $100 is required.

The new ordinance provides a penalty of $100 fine or 90 days in jail or both upon conviction.

Public hearing set for city ordinances

The Van Buren Planning Commission has scheduled a public hearing Oct. 14 on a request of the Republic Development Corporation and the Wyandotte Savings Bank to amend their rezoning application involving four acres of land.

of the Wyandotte Savings Bank and a number of small stores.

The initial petition filed by the developing form sought the rezoning of only two acres of land at the site but at the Sept. 2 meeting of the planning commission, the company wanted the four acres rezoned to provide for possible expansion and an additional parking area.

Romulus council makes a request

Any future action on any Michigan Liquor Control Commission licenses by Romulus City Council must involve the presence before council of the parties concerned.

The city council at its Sept. 1 meeting unanimously approved a motion by Councilman James C. Stewart and supported by Councilman Brooker R. Edwards, that no action be taken by council until and unless the parties involved appear before council.

The action was taken when council was asked to concur with a recommendation by the mayor and the police department report that a resolution be approved for the transfer of an S.D.M. (special designated merchant) for the Kidwell Drugs be approved.

Action on the recommendation was held up pending an appearance of the interested parties at the next regular session of city council scheduled for Sept. 10.

City erects signs

"Safety First - Save A Child" signs are to be erected near Romulus' elementary and secondary schools by the city's Department of Public Works.

Romulus City Council at its Sept. 1 session directed the D.P.W. to erect the signs after they are purchased by the local post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

The V.F.W.'s offer to purchase the safety signs was accepted and approved by city council.

Traffic deaths are down

Michigan traffic deaths numbered 191 in August, a reduction of 63 or about 25 per cent compared with the record high of 254 set for August, 1968 according to State Police traffic division provisional figures.

The August toll marked the seventh month in a row this year to show a decrease compared with corresponding months in 1969. Average for August was 220 in the five years, 1965-69. The month's low was 67 in wartime 1943.

In his proclamation, Angel said:

Whereas, There is an urgent and pressing need to stamp out Leukemia, the dread blood disease, which each year claims the lives of many children; and,

Whereas, Immeasurable benefit has been provided by ALSAC teenagers through aid for the support and maintenance of St. Jude Children's Research Hospital, an institution dedicated to the elimination of all catastrophic diseases in children; and,

Whereas, ALSAC is a voluntary organization which provides more than 90 per cent of all funds collected directly toward the war on Leukemia and all other related catastrophic blood diseases; now,

Therefore, I, George Angel, Supervisor of Huron Township Proclaim, Sunday, Sept. 20, ALSAC Teenagers Day in the Township of Huron, and call upon all Citizens to support the ALSAC teenagers as they work today to Aid Leukemia Stricken American Children.

Huron teachers will go to school without contract

Teachers of the Huron School District have agreed to return to the classroom while negotiations for a new 1970-71 employment contract proceed.

Michael Lamb, president of the Huron Education Association, said:

"The teachers of the Huron School District are prepared to return to the classroom Sept. 8, even without a new teaching contract. Thus the commitment to the taxpayers and children of the district will be met while negotiations proceed toward an equitable settlement."

On Sept. 8, teachers are to report prior to opening day of school, Sept. 9.

Richard Terepin, state labor mediator, has recommended that settlement of the economic issues be sought in fact finding.

Edmund Bizek of Romulus, who sought re-nomination to the Wayne County Board of Commissioners in the Aug. 4 primary election on the Democratic ticket, has filed a petition for a recount with the Wayne County Clerk.

Bizek lost by 92 votes to John N. Sabo, Jr., a Taylor barber. Sabo polled 2,937 votes and Bizek 2,845.

In his petition, Bizek requested a recount of 19 precincts, including only one computer precinct in Dearborn Heights.

Belleville pair returns to Fair year after year

After 23 years one would think the annual Michigan State Fair, and especially the exhibitions in the industrial arts and garden departments of the Junior Fair, would become sort of ho-hum to Edmund and Olive Laginess, 40134 Judd Rd., Belleville.

But the truth of the matter is that both look forward to the annual fair each year with a great deal of enthusiasm. That's a sort of different feeling that one would expect.

Ed, a retiree from the Wayne County Road Commission after 30 years service, was a leader of the Martinsville 4-H Club for 25 years and thus it was only natural that he be asked to take over part of the junior fair when it became a part of the State Fair 23 years ago.

He had been working with the 4-H Groups at a time when they, along with the Future Farmers of America and the Future Homemakers, competed in the junior activities at the Fair.

Most of the judging at that time was in farm exhibits, homemaking, dressmaking, cooking, baked goods and similar items.

Then at the time when Hazen Funk was general manager, it was decided to place the 4-H Club, FFA and FHA into a junior fair. It has been that way since.

The reason, according to the Laginesses, is that the State Fair Commission wanted to open the competition to youngsters in the city where as it had been limited to the rural areas.

Mrs. Laginess had been a superintendent in charge of some of the activities in the old Home Arts building for two years when the decision was made to start a Junior Fair.

During the period when the juniors competed under the banners of the three farm groups, the competition was held in the old junior building, since razed, which had dormitory space for boys on the second floor.

Laginess served as a volunteer there for three or four years before receiving his appointment to his present position.

Why does he keep coming back year after year for what appears to be more of the same?

"Every Fair brings something new and interesting," he says.

The Laginesses termed the exhibitions for 1970 as the greatest to date.

DEDICATED STATE FAIR LEADERS — Mr. and Mrs. Edmund (Olive) Laginess, 40134 Judd Rd., Belleville, are shown inspecting some of the entries in the Junior Vegetables Display at the State Fair. The Laginesses have been affiliated with the fair exhibitions for more than 23 years. Edmund is presently superintendent of the Junior Show, Industrial Arts and Garden Division. He was a leader in 4-H Club programs for 25 years. He is a retiree from the Wayne County Road Commission.

Man critical after collision

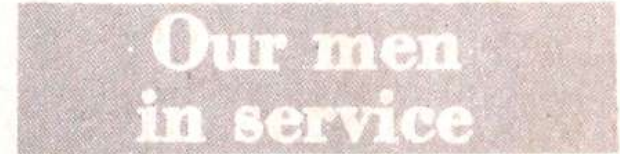

Raymond Bailey, 40, of 8701 Belleville Rd. Belleville, remained in critical condition in Wayne County General Hospital Tuesday with injuries incurred in a two-car collision in Canton Township Saturday.

The driver of the second vehicle, Randal Pruitt, 23, of 32208 Oscoda, Westland, was taken off the critical list early Tuesday morning.

A Wayne County Sheriff's Patrol spokesman said Bailey was northbound on Canton Center Rd. at 9:45 a.m. when his car was struck by Pruitt's vehicle which was westbound on Cherry Hill Rd.

Bailey's daughter Lynnette, age 7, was treated and released.

No charges have been filed against either driver pending further investigation of the mishap.

U.S. Air Force Technical Sergeant Donald W. Freitag, son of Mrs. Laura M. Freitag, Michigan Ave., Belleville, has arrived for duty at Langley AFB, Va.

Sergeant Freitag, a jet engine technician, is assigned to the 4500th Consolidated Aircraft Maintenance Squadron. The 4500th is a unit of the Tactical Air Command which provides combat units for air support of U.S. ground forces.

The sergeant attended Lincoln High School in Ypsilanti.

U.S. Airman First Class William Lee Jones, a member of the U.S. Air Force security police, left Aug. 31 for a year's service in Miyaki, an island off Okinawa.

Jones is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Jones Sr., of Romulus. He was previously stationed at Grand Forks, A.F.B. North Dakota, where his wife, Cathy, resided with him.

Romulus schools try to save drop-outs

Traditionally, September signals the back-to-school movement at all educational levels throughout the country.

This year the movement in Romulus extends beyond that of the regular school day. It also marks a new and innovating school concept that reaches further into the community than in previous years.

Each September there are some students who have not completed high school, but who are not making the excited last-minute arrangements for school's opening. The reason is that they are not returning.

Sometimes the reason they are leaving school is that they have found employment and the money is a stronger lure.

Often they have simply lost interest in the regular academic classes and having experienced failure, believe they cannot do the work. Frequently they have not been able to get the individual help they need to remain motivated.

In an effort to help these young people complete their education, up-grade their skills and assist them in implementing a program that is truly relevant to them and their needs, Romulus has initiated an Out-of-School Youth program.

Council election ready

All residents and or property owners having a demonstrable and substantial interest in the urban renewal area are eligible to run for office. All residents and property owners in the Urban Renewal area are eligible to vote.

A district council of 25 members is to be elected, one third to serve three-year terms, one third to serve two-year terms, and one third to serve one-year terms.

Council doesn't like Detroit chamber's sign

A highway sign erected in Romulus by the Eller Sign Company of Detroit for the Greater Detroit Chamber of Commerce has been criticized as "being derogatory" to the city of Romulus.

The billboard type sign is located at Vining and Goddard Rds., in the vicinity of Metro Airport.

Councilman James C. Stewart aired his personal feelings in protesting the wording on the sign before City Council Sept. 1.

He requested that council officially file a protest with Detroit's City Clerk, George Edwards voicing that "we do not appreciate erection of derogatory signs."

The message on the sign states: "Are You A Detroit Or A Detraitor." The sign also pictures two thumbs with one pointing upward and the other pointing downward.

Stewart told his colleagues that he felt that the sign's message was against Romulus residents and the community. He held that if people in Romulus were not Detroiters then they were detractors.

A motion by Stewart that a communication protesting the erection of the sign be sent to Edwards was supported by Councilman William M. Oakley and unanimously approved by council.

Council also approved the sending of a letter to the sign company informing them that the city issued their sign erector's license and that "we do not appreciate the erection of derogatory signs."

School offices moved

The Huron School District Board of Education and administration office has moved.

The new location is the Hannan Road Elementary School, 18955 Hannan Rd.

The school board and administrative personnel were housed at the Huron High School until a week ago.

Progressive club boosts CAP with advertisements

As part of its continuing effort to enhance the community life of the greater Romulus area, the Romulus Progressive Club, Inc., has again come to the support of the local unit of the Civil Air Patrol.

Believing that the CAP, as typified by the Wayne-Romulus Cadet Squadron, has a worthwhile program to offer the teenagers of this area, the Progressive Club has financed a series of informational ads on the CAP to appear in the Romulus Roman and the Belleville Enterprise.

The advertisements, each covering a quarter of a page, will appear in four successive Wednesday issues of the papers.

Prepared by the Wayne-Romulus Squadron Information Officer, each explains a different aspect of the CAP Cadet Program.

In this way it is hoped to acquaint both teenagers and their parents with the many activities and exciting opportunities which the Civil Air Patrol has to offer its Cadet members.

Continuing education survey forms due

Survey forms for the Romulus Continuing Education Program must be completed and returned to the office of the Federal and State Coordinator by Friday, Sept. 11.

The committee reports that volunteers have been leaving information about the Community Education programs and supportive services at each household in Romulus.

They are also asking that a confidential statement concerning family size, education and income be completed and sealed by each family. These forms are returned to the Coordinator's office where they are being tabulated.

Statistics compiled from the completed questionnaires will be used to qualify for many of the programs being offered through the romulus Community Schools, Family and Neighborhood Services, YWCA, OEO and other participating agencies.

Initial phase is completed

The initial phase of demolishing vacant and unsafe residential properties in Romulus has been completed, Joseph B. Gallagher, building inspector, announced Monday.

The first phase of Romulus' program of ridding the city of unsafe structure consisted of 11 homes scattered throughout the city.

Council names banks

The Security Bank & Trust Company and the Wyandotte Savings Bank have been designated by Romulus City Council as collection points for city taxes, water bills and as depositories for city funds.

A motion designating the two banks for such purposes was made by Councilman William M. Oakley and supported by Councilman Fred Junior Block.

The Stanson Wrecking Company of Belleville demolished the homes under city-approved contract.

Gallagher reported that 10 or 12 more residences are slated for demolition in the near future.

He said that the property owners must first be notified to have the demolition work performed within a 30-day period after notification. If upon failure to do so, the city will take bids to have the demolition done and then assess demolition cost against the property owner.

Mobile unit here

The Wayne County Family Health Clinic Mobile Unit will be at the Romulus Neighborhood Action Center, located at 35351 Beverly Rd., every Friday.

The unit will be available during the hours of 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Credit union changes name

Members of the Detroit Newspaper Industrial Credit Union, at a special membership meeting, voted to change the name of the credit union to Communicating Arts Credit Union.

In commenting on the change, Ralph Novak, treasurer-manager of the credit union, pointed out that the old name, which served well for thirty five years, no longer adequately covered the credit union's field of membership.

"We serve not only the employees of the newspaper and printing industry, but also persons employed in radio, television, advertising and all segments of the graphic arts in the metropolitan area," Novak said, in announcing the name change.

Chartered in 1935, the credit union, located at 630 Howard Street, Detroit, has more than 11,000 members.

In our opinion

Ours is government of laws, not of men

Responsible citizens throughout the nation should protect the concept that ours is a government of laws not of men. We must emphasize adherence to laws and respect for properly constituted authorities.

Lawlessness of many types is prevalent today. Some Supreme Court decisions provide greater protection to the accused than to society. These make the task of law enforcement more difficult.

Many condemn the acts of those who incite or participate in riots, defile the flag or burn draft cards. We recognize the right of citizens to dissent, but protests and demonstrations should not interfere with the rights of others and must not be permitted to deteriorate into civil disorder and anarchy.

Each individual should be held liable for his acts when participating in or inciting such disorders.

We favor stricter enforcement of laws protecting private and public property, both rural and urban, from losses due to riots, vandalism and looting and urge prosecution of offenders.

Our campuses must be returned to their traditional role as centers of reason and intellectual pursuit. Student activists, not-student extremists, and the faculty members who support them in lawlessness of interference with the orderly operation of educational institutions have forfeited any right to remain in the educational community.

They should be summarily expelled and dismissed and if necessary put under peace bond not to return. Any who demonstrate sympathy with those who have been removed should be suspended or expelled depending on their actions.

Society must be concerned with law and order with justice. To accomplish this Americans have adopted the policy of freedom of speech and press. However, it has become alarmingly apparent that the third foundation, that of peaceful assembly, is disregarded by many and perhaps needs to be reiterated.

These beliefs stem from a belief in the republican form of government as provided in the limitations upon government power; in maintenance of equal; in the right of each individual to worship as he chooses; in separation of church and state; and in freedom of speech, press, but in peaceful assembly.

Public officials' forum

Nixon fund veto affects local projects

By WILLIAM D. FORD
Congressman, 15th District

The 15th Congressional District is feeling the first effects of President Nixon's recent veto of appropriations for the Department of Housing and Urban Development and other Federal agencies.

I have just received word that local officials in three 15th District communities — Inkster, Sumpter Township and Lincoln Park — for 35 units. All preliminary planning has been completed, and local officials were waiting for money to put the plans into execution.

In notifying me that the three communities must suspend their plans, HUD officials cited a "current shortage of funds, aggravated by continuing high development costs and interest rates."

The shortage funds was the exact problem that Congress was trying to solve when it added $350,000,000 to President Nixon's proposed budget for the Department of Housing and Urban Development.

It is certainly true that building costs have been rising and it is safe to predict that they will continue to rise. This problem will not be it will become worse.

The lack of adequate housing, particularly for elderly persons and the underprivileged, has become a national disgrace. Congress, recognizing this problem, has enacted legislation to assist local communities in helping to solve the housing shortage.

It is most unfortunate that the administration's misguided sense of priorities has again resulted in a short-changing for the American people. Additional housing is needed, and it will have to be built. Individual communities do not have the financial resources to do it on their own. Federal aid is the only possible solution. In vetoing the housing money, President Nixon has only postponed action until a future date, when rising costs of construction will make the projects even more costly.

And in the meantime, millions of Americans must continue to live in sub-standard housing, unable to share in the affluence that the majority of Americans are enjoying.

It is a sad commentary on this nation's traditions and hopes for the future. Congress now trying to pare down the appropriations bill to limits that President Nixon will not consider "inflationary."

I intend to do all I can to see that the funds for Housing and Urban Development are maintained at the higher level so that we can help local officials continue with their programs for additional low-rent housing.

The target

District Council activity vital

The role of the public in Garden City's urban renewal project has been underestimated.

Two years ago Sept. 16, fifteen residents were appointed to an Urban Renewal District Council. They met for the first time last week and only four members showed up. Their two-year terms expire next week.

The District Council could have been a valuable asset to the city this summer when it received a $1,039,000 grant from the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) for the project.

When tentative plans for the urban renewal area were presented in June, concerned residents for weeks filled the City Council chambers during council meetings. The residents were confused and hurled questions and criticisms at the council and Henry E. Graper, urban renewal director.

A petition drive was started to stop urban renewal, but it eventually fizzled out.

If the District Council had been meeting regularly or even occasionally for information sessions during the last two years, the city may have been able to avoid the misconceptions and confusion over the project.

Had the District Council been kept up to date on the plans for the project, the 15 members could have cleared confusion among their neighbors and friends.

The 15 members could have had an important role in explaining the concepts of the project, what it means to Garden City in tax dollars, why the 22.3 acres around the Civic Center were chosen, and the regulations and requirements of the HUD grant.

For example, some residents believed that the

PTA's needed more than ever

By HENRY CANTIN

Most Americans agree that it's time to do something about what's happening in our country today.

About student unrest, pollution, children in trouble and especially about increasing teenage drug abuse.

Good intentions to do something about these problems have been expressed both privately and publicly and in some areas programs initiated to carry them out to successful conclusion.

With the opening of area schools this week, an excellent opportunity to take positive action to assist in the elimination of some of the urgent problems presents itself in the current membership drives of our local units of parents-teachers associations.

Membership in the PTA is through the local unit which is usually organized in a school and is open to all persons interested in the welfare of children and youth.

As one leading national PTA official said, "We're concerned and that's good. But it takes more than concern to stop drug abuse, to prevent disruption in our community, to clean up the environment. It takes people working together who aren't afraid to meet the issues face to face. It takes action."

To this we agree and one avenue leading to corrective action for children and youth is in the local PTA chapter.

PTA units in Belleville and Romulus and adjacent areas have grown in strength and activity, but they need all the assistance they can muster. Many of their programs and projects have benefited both the child and community and all should be encouraged to continue in their worthwhile efforts and programs.

During nearly every college semester, a few courses quickly emerge as the "hot ones." They are interesting and challenging courses that attract and hold students, because of arresting subjects, or a dynamic instructor, or something else that can't quite be defined.

One such "hot course" is being offered at Wayne County Community College. It is called "Consumer Rights", and it's being taught at about two dozen locations or centers of the college system.

"Consumer Rights" is a course unique in Wayne County, perhaps in the country. It is intended to help consumers get a fair deal in the marketplace: to point out injustices and traps; to explain the buyer's rights; to outline remedies; and to work toward reform of abuses. We say it's about time.

If interested in the "hot courses", a contact at the college's local centers: Belleville High School and Huron High School, will supply you with all the information.

Two happy events are scheduled soon for residents of Belleville and Van Buren Township. These are the long-awaited dedications of Belleville High School's auditorium (Sept. 20) and the Van Buren School District's new junior high school - the North Junior High School (Oct. 11).

May we here at Belleville Enterprise offer our sincerest congratulations to all who may have had a part in the planning, designing and construction of the two community projects.

U.S. commitment to Israel in balance

By Charles
Bartlett

Nixon-sponsored pursuit of a treaty.

WASHINGTON — The exchanges on the cease-fire violations in the Middle East show that a dramatic expansion of the American commitment to the security of Israel is the chief consequence to date of the Nixon peace initiative.

The paramount thought within the administration has been that nothing must interfere with the diplomatic progress towards peace. The corollary to this thought is that the Israelis must be compensated for any real or imagined losses in security which they derive from this

Analysts here in fact believe that the Israelis have lost a great deal less than the anguished cries from Jerusalem suggest. New revetments have appeared in the peace zone and they violate Washington's interpretation of the truce agreement. The penetration capabilities of the Israeli air force have obviously been diminished.

But Washington's view is that this would have happened without a cease-fire because the Soviets and Arabs seemed ready to pay the military price to finish their defensive installations west of the canal. They have done what they were going to do but they have accomplished no changes in the total military balance that cannot be redressed.

The Israelis' great gain is the new anxiety in Washington to compensate for even their psychological losses in security. In earlier days Jerusalem's requests for arms were coolly received and lengthily considered. But now respect for the gamble that Israel is taking runs so high that officials no longer talk of her requests for arms. They speak of "Israel's requirements."

This was the spirit of the debate in the Senate on Sen. William Fulbright's attempt to bring arms sales under the purview of his Foreign Relations Committee. The move was buried by a fuzzy apprehension that somehow it might interfere with the speed of the Pentagon's response to a cable for arms from Jerusalem.

The new mood is pushing Washington policy towards the kind of close-knit security commitment which the Israelis have sought since the 1967 war. The Israelis are playing to this new sense of concern for their welfare and whether the peace initiative succeeds or fails, they will henceforth enjoy a deeper concern for their fate.

It is unfortunate, I think, that Graper and other officials did not look beyond the primary role of the District Council.

The residents' ability to contribute to the forming of the project, and their ability to clearly inform the general public has been underestimated.

The District Council was

Our readers write

'Motored' linked with Birch Society

To the Editor:

According to the Sept. 2, issue of this newspaper, the Huron Township Citizens Committee has "the same ideas and goals as a group of parents who have formed throughout Michigan called the MOTORED Committee."

This means Movement To Restore Decency". Further quote: "It is true our secretary is not from Huron Township but she is a member of Motored and therefore she qualifies".

According to a booklet (Suggestions for Defense Against Extremist Attack) from the Commission on Professional Rights And Responsibilities by the National Education Association (page 4).

"The chief John Birch from it MOTOREDE (Movement to Restore Decency). The anti-sex education drive is further aided by American Opinion Bookstores (Birch Society publication outlets) which sell materials from nationally recognized extremist groups opposing family life programs.

Additionally, there are front groups not openly identified with MOTOREDE, which use either Birch Society material, tactics, and/or the Birch line."

According to an article in the September, 1969 issue of Redbook Magazine (pages 79 and 193): "Last January, Robert Welch, founder president and policy maker of the Birch Society, who will be remembered for his charge that the late Dwight Eisenhower was a tool of the Communists, characterized sex education as a "filthy Communist plot." He called for "organized, nationwide, intensive, angry and determined opposition" to it.

"Redbook's purpose in exposing them is not to give blanket approval to sex education in any and every form, but to make clear the distinction between responsible criticism on the one hand and, on the other, those tactics that can only poison the air of a community, breed mistrust among parents and demoralize teachers and administrators.

Within a few weeks of Robert Welch's rally to arms, groups calling themselves Motored (Movement to Restore Decency) began popping up around the country, often under the direct control of Birchers."

According to the August, 1969 issue of the American School Board Journal (page 8):

"Although they are in the minority (for example, local Birch MOTOREDE committees, front groups representing the Movement to Restore Decency, are made up of 10 per cent Birchers and 90 per cent other citizens), they are highly organized and financed, can obtain necessary propaganda with hardly more effort than snapping the fingers, and have succeeded in enlisting uninformed, unsuspecting citizens in the movement. Right-wing opponents often import out-of-town critics to fan local conflagrations..."

According to the Sept. 9, 1969, issue of Look Magazine (page 16):

"The Birch Society's local Movement to Restore Decency (Motored) committees,..."

We believe the above is sufficient documentation.

A penny saved is just a penny earned, if you're saving it in a wallet, drawer, purse or cookie jar. That same penny, placed in a WSB savings account, earns interest. Leave it in awhile and it becomes more than a penny. Of course, a penny alone won't make your family financially secure. It takes a regular program of planned savings to do that. We just used the penny example to make an important point. You get more out of a WSB savings account than you put in.

Marilyn Smith is bride

Alumni chapel at MSU scene of August vows

In an August 16 ceremony at the Alumni Memorial Chapel on the campus of Michigan State University, Marilyn Anne Smith became the bride of James Clyde Gaa. The couple exchanged wedding bands especially designed by the bride and made by Marsha Wineman, a close friend of the young couple.

The seven o'clock nuptials were presided over by the Rev. Thomas Smith of East Lansing before an altar appointed with two tall candelabra and arrangements of white gladiolas and mixed garden blooms.

Larry Johnson of East Lansing was at the organ to play traditional wedding selections with soloist Gail Allen of East Lansing being accompanied on the guitar by Dave Kingsley of Belleville.

The candlelight service united the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Smith of 45561 Harmony Lane, Belleville, and the son of Dr. and Mrs. Charles J. Gaa of 2022 Navaho Trail, Okemos.

ESCORTED UP the aisle by her father, Marilyn appeared in a white crepe creation which she had designed and made. The toe-touching gown, styled with a sleeveless lace bodice and high neckline, featured a full-length kaftan fashioned with a lace hood and long sleeves. Her bridal bouquet was comprised of cascading white butterfly orchids and tendrils of ivy.

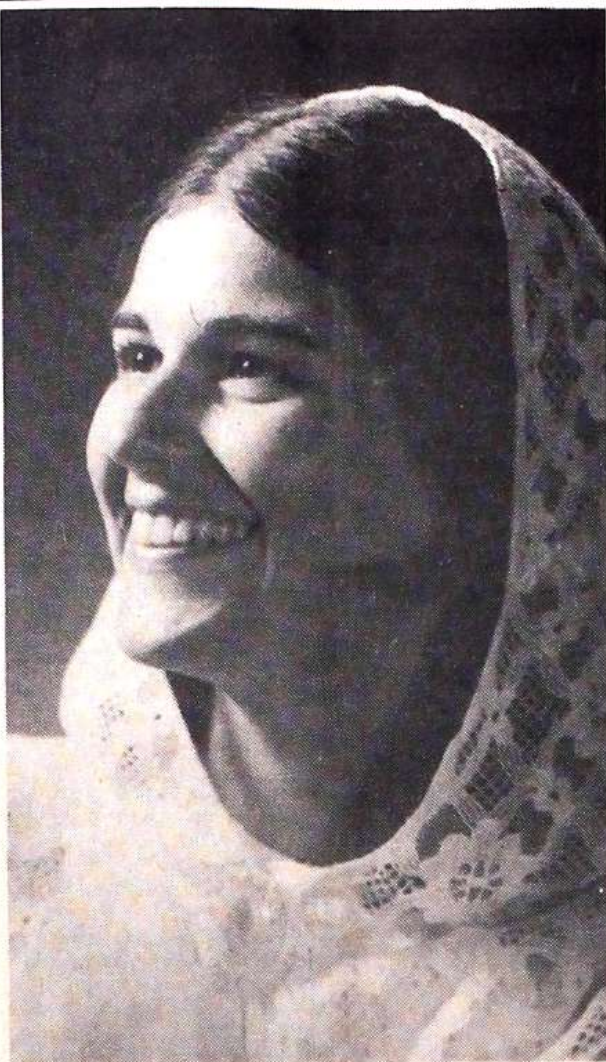

As her sister's maid of honor, Joyce C. Smith donned a formal sleeveless gown in orange sherbert crepe and carried a bouquet of mixed garden flowers and miniature orchids in shades of red.

Bridesmaids in colorful frocks, identical to the honor maid's, were Marsha Wineman of Detroit in watermelon; Gloria Price of Belleville in royal purple; and Linda Akin in shocking pink.

THOMAS M. GAA of Okemos was his brother's best man. Others on the esquire side were John P. Gaa of Durham, North Carolina, and Charles W. Gaa of Okemos, both brothers of the bridegroom; Rudy Hornus of Okemos; and David Phillips of Belleville.

The church lounge was the setting for the reception which followed. Mrs. Smith received in a long-sleeved pink chiffon dress with a sleeveless pink lace companion coat. The bridegroom's mother was dressed in an aqua brocade coat-dress ensemble. Both were presented with corsages of white orchids.

A 1967 graduate of Belleville High School, Marilyn attended Michigan State University for the past three years and this fall will be a student at Webster College in St. Louis, Missouri where she and her husband are now living. Jim graduated from Okemos High School in 1966 and from Michigan State University. He is currently enrolled in the doctoral program at Washington University in St. Louis.

Arbogast - Young wed

Double ring vows are spoken in New Jersey

Double ring vows were exchanged between Loretta H. Young and Bradley W. Arbogast in an August ceremony at St. Vincent Pallotti Church, Haddon Township, New Jersey. The eleven o'clock nuptials were read by the Rev. Robert McDermott with some 70 close friends and relatives present.

Bay of Fundy and the Gaspe' Peninsula in Canada, the newlyweds made their home in Forest Park, Illinois.

her husband received his BS degree from the University of Michigan.

The new Mrs. Arbogast earned her BS degree from Georgian Court College, Lakewood, New Jersey, while Both are presently graduate students in biochemistry at the University of Illinois Medical Center, Chicago.

MRS. BRADLEY W. ARBOGAST

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Young of 919 Mansion Avenue, Westmont, New Jersey, the bride was escorted to the altar by her father. Her bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Wendell Arbogast of 4902 Oakville Waltz Road Carleton, and the late Mr. Arbogast.

HOLDING A cascade of white carnations and yellow roses interspersed with lemon leaves, Loretta approached the sanctuary in a floor-length gown of re-embroidered Alencon lace and peau de soie designed and made by her mother. The little bodice's high-rise waistline was traced with a peau bow and was cut with a scoop neckline and long sleeves.

A shoulder-length mantilla of lace and tulle completed her bridal ensemble.

Olive green chiffon gowns with mock coat effects were worn by the trio of bridal attendants: Mrs. Ross Horowitz of Edgewater, New Jersey, the matron of honor, and Mrs. William McNeil of Parsippany, New Jersey, and Sharon Smith of Staten Island, New York.

Dainty floral trim in yellow and orange accented the frocks which were accessorized with shoulder-length tulle veils secured by olive green headbows trimmed in the yellow and orange motif. Their bouquets were comprised of yellow daisies and pom poms.

The bridegroom chose his brother, Gregory, to be best man. Groomsman were Timothy McLaughlin of Allen Park and Jay Stutski of Toins River, New Jersey, cousins of the bridegroom and bride, respectively.

AT THE RECEPTION which followed at Compton's Log Cabin Restaurant, guests were received by Mrs. Young wearing a pale pink frock of lace and chiffon. The bridegroom's mother donned a pink lace ensemble with both mothers adding corsages of pink baby roses to their costumes.

Visit Scotland

VERY NICE note from Jeanne Van Allen came our way last week telling of the recent trip she and John took to visit their daughter and son-in-law, Brenda and Don Moore, and little daughter, Suzie, in Dunoon, Scotland.

Leaving Montreal August 4, they flew to the British Isles in time to help celebrate Suzie's third birthday. The Moores are abroad because Don is serving for two years aboard the USS Canopus, a sub tender for our nuclear subs.

"Beautiful scenery, mountains, picturesque old town, old-fashioned gardens with roses everywhere, and tiny, quaint shops," is the way Jeanne describes Dunoon, a burgh in West Central Scotland.

Their two weeks stay included all the local shops — the green grocer, iron monger (hardware), fish monger, baker, and wool shops (where Jeanne discovered fabrics "out of this world!") They also visited Inveraray Castle, the Scottish home of the Dukes of Argyll and headquarters of the clan Campbell, where the furnishing date back to about 1750.

At Younger Botanic Gardens in Benmore they toured an estate of thousands of acres given to the nation in 1928 where trees and shrubs from all over the world are planted including an avenue of Sequoia redwoods and Douglas firs from the U.S.

The Van Allens concentrated mainly on the smaller towns and country scenery in the resort area with its many locks and waterways, walking for miles and miles. Everyone walks in Scotland and that's the way the Van Allens 'did' the area, hunting pretty stones and shells with little Suzie in tow. With daylight there until nearly 11 p.m., the visitors had nice long evenings in which to 'do' Scotland.

Romulus visitors

OVER IN Romulus there were recent visitors at the Randall French home on Sharon Street and the Ron Halvin's on Castle Drive — Lt. and Mrs. Kim Wahtera and daughter, Tiffany, who were here from Kingsville, Texas. Mrs. Wahtera, the former Sandy French, is a sister of Mrs. Halvin. Little Tiffany was born at Kingsville City Hospital April 12.

The Wahteras also spent part of their vacation with his parents in Marquette. The threesome was enroute to their new home in Havelock, North Carolina, where Kim is stationed with the U.S. Marines as a jet pilot.

Seasoning sense

Beef steaks should be seasoned after browning for a very important reason. Salt, a common seasoning agent, draws meat juices to the surface which retards the initial browning that maximizes the wonderful flavor of beef. An easy rule is to season each side of the steak after it has been browned.

Pam Williams weds

Newly wed Champions honeymoon in Nassau

The First United Methodist Church, Wayne, was the setting August 15, for the double ring ceremony which united Pamela K. Williams and Donald C. Campion, III, in holy matrimony.

Rev. Neal D. Kelley heard the marriage vows before some 200 assembled guests with Rev. John Baker as soloist for the occasion.

Pam is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Williams of 2300 Lotz Road, Wayne, and the bridegroom the son of Mrs. Jean Campion of 8240 Sanford, Westland.

For her wedding, Pam chose a gown of organza with a chapel-length train. Venice lace made up the sheer yoke and appeared again on the bishop sleeves and at the natural waistline. Her bouquet was of miniature carnations.

Mrs. Kenneth Breitmeyer of Ypsilanti was matron of honor in an orchid chiffon gown with matching picture hat. The basket she carried was filled with orchid daisies.

BRIDESMAIDS in pink, green and yellow were Mrs. Robert G. Williams of Drayton Plains, sister-in-law of the bride; Barbara Noble of Livonia, a cousin; and Janis Campion of Westland, sister of the bridegroom.

Groomsmen were Douglas Campion of Westland as best man; Kenneth Breitmeyer of Ypsilanti; Walt Miga of Dearborn Heights; and Ronald Moskal of Detroit. Ushers were Robert G. Williams of Drayton Plains, brother of the bride; and Daryl and Dale Campion of Westland, brothers of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Williams chose for her daughter's wedding an aqua evening gown of chiffon and lace while Mrs. Campion selected an apricot-colored gown. Both were honored with cymbidium orchids.

Following a reception at the V.F.W. Hall, Wayne, the newlyweds departed for a four-day honeymoon in Nassau. They are now making their home in Southfield.

Pam is a junior at Eastern Michigan University majoring in early elementary education. Her husband graduated from the University of Michigan Engineering School and is employed at G.M. Technical Center Warren.

MISS TKACHUK

Wedding in March planned

Both Miss Tkachuk and her fiancé are graduates of Romulus High School. The son of Mrs. Ethel Robbins of 8701 Belleville Road, Belleville, and the late Ben Robbins, the prospective bridegroom is employed by the Ford Motor Company.

The United Missionary Church, Belleville, is being reserved for their March 27 wedding.

Allen Joneses mark 25th anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Jones, Sr. were surprised on the evening of August 30 with a party observing their 25th wedding anniversary. Given by their children, the junior Allen Joneses, the William Joneses, Sue and Debbie, the party was held in the Waltz Fire Hall with some 75 guests attending from Gaylord, Pontiac, Southgate, New Boston, Carleton, Maybee, and Romulus.

A three-tiered cake was the work of Mrs. John Krause who had been maid of honor when the couple were married September 1, 1945, in St. John's Lutheran Church.

The Joneses have resided at 9394 Tobine Road, Romulus, ever since their marriage. They have two sons — Allen of Romulus and William, who's serving with the U.S. Air Force in Okinawa; and two daughters, Sue and Debbie at home.

HERALD: "When there is less production than there is demand, prices are bound to go up! This was true a 100 years ago, 30 years ago, and will be true 100 years from now. But we still continue to believe that production will be accomplished by legislative fiat and not by the sweat of our brows."

MR. AND MRS. DONALD C. CAMPION, III

Patton-Patterson nuptial vows read

Susan Marie Patterson and Steven Charles Patton, both of Belleville, exchanged double ring vows August 22 at the First United Methodist Church of Belleville.

Rev. Charles Dibley presided at the four o'clock service with Dave Goldsworth at the organ as Mrs. Ruth Pollard sang.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Patterson of 18033 Savage Road and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Patton of 41720 Bemis Road are parents of the young couple.

A reception at the P.N.A. Lodge was attended by some 200 guests following the ceremony. The newlyweds later departed for a week-long honeymoon in Niagara Falls, Canada, and are currently at home at 2499 Michigan Avenue, Green Acres Mobile Homes.

FOR HER wedding day, Susan chose a formal, A-line gown styled with a small collar on the high neckline and long, puffed sleeves cuffed at the wrist. A long, train of nylon with lace inserts fell from the high waistline.

Her waist-length veil of nylon tulle was held by a rose petal tiara and she carried miniature white carnations centered with a corsage of miniature roses.

The bride's best friend, Linda Carol Sowards of Belleville, was asked to be maid of honor. Her empire frock was of pale blue nylon and lace in the formal A-line mode.

Bridesmaids in identical yellow frocks were Cheryl Kuschnik of Livonia and Kaye Lynn Alles of Southgate, a cousin.

Best man was Daniel Pokrywki of Belleville with Ralph Patterson, the bride's brother, and Dave Fallon of Ypsilanti ushering.

Mrs. Patterson chose for her daughter's wedding a green lace dress and silver accessories. Her white carnation corsage was tinted in green and Mrs. Patton's corsage was in pink to harmonize with her lavender ensemble.

The new Mrs. Patton graduated from Belleville High School with the class of 1970. Her husband, a

Inaugural gowns to be modeled

All the fashions unveiled to Michigan women this fall will not come from the salons of Paris and New York. America's past will make its contribution, too.

The Republican National Committee has selected Michigan as the first stop on a nationwide tour of 19 past Presidential Inaugural Ball gowns, all hand sewn recreations of the originals.

This unique historical collection is being shown at GOP fund-raising events in five Michigan cities — Traverse City, Kalamazoo, Ann Arbor, Bloomfield Hills Township and Flint.

Mrs. William G. Milliken, Michigan's First Lady, has agreed to model one of the gowns, the copy of Mrs. Mary Todd Lincoln's Inaugural selection, at each of the five locations.

In addition to Lincoln, the styles of 18 other Presidential eras will also be presented. They include George Washington, John Adams, James Madison, James Monroe, John Quincy Adams, Martin Van Buren, James K. Polk, Millard Fillmore, Ulysses S. Grant, James A. Garfield, Benjamin Harrison, Grover Cleveland, Theodore Roosevelt, William Howard Taft, Woodrow Wilson, Warren Harding, Calvin Coolidge and Herbert Hoover.

Models for these gowns will be chosen from among women residing in the locale of each event.

The General Chairman of the Michigan tour is Mrs. Edwin W. Deer

Two Troy, Michigan designers, Donald Nagel and David Zeese of "Fundamentals," 2351 Cheswick Drive, have been commissioned by the Republican National Committee to do the actual reproduction work.

Following are the details for showing in this area. Tuesday, September 15, at the Hilton Inn, Ann Arbor, a champagne brunch and fashion show at 11:00 a.m. The local chairman is Mrs. Fred Fischbach of Saline. Cost is $10.00 per person.

MICHIGAN'S FIRST LADY Mrs. William G. Milliken is shown above in a re-creation of the presidential inaugural ball gown worn by Mrs. Mary Todd Lincoln in 1861. Mrs. Milliken will model this gown at the Hilton Inn Sept. 15 during a champagne brunch. The dress is made of royal purple velvet with the tight bodice and full skirt of the hoop-skirt period. The seams of the gown are piped with off-white satin cording. The neckline is trimmed with bands of narrow lace and the elaborate sleeves are a combination of lace, net and cording.

Public hearing held behind locked doors

To The Editor:

Several weeks ago this newspaper printed a public announcement signed by the Clerk, Leonard Folmar, of the City of Romulus, announcing a Public Hearing on the new budget, to be held at the Water Department on Aug. 13 at 7 p.m.

Several interested citizens including myself, planned to attend this hearing, since we felt that the budget of our city, certainly was of interest and affected us.

We were not able to make the hearing quite on time, but arrived just shortly before 7:20. We found that the doors were quite literally locked although the meeting was taking place inside, and one individual came out to inform us that the meeting was taking place, but the plans were changed and the public was not admitted.

The budget was then accepted by the councilmen later than evening at the regular city council meeting.

What kind of a city do we have? What kind of administration do we have? What is the purpose or plan in announcing a Public Hearing in the city's official instrument of communication - this newspaper - and then locking the doors when interested citizens do show up?

I challenge every or any member of our administration to explain publicly in this newspaper, how and why a public hearing can be announced and then the doors be locked.

I also challenge every citizen of this community to start wondering, looking into, and finding out what our administration is up to when they pull something like this.

Committee wants decent sex education

To The Editor:

Last week's letter from the "People for Huron" was the lowest of low blows.

After communicating with several members of the "Huron Township Citizens Committee" I believe these people not to be against sex education but are for responsible sex education with decency.

Tell me, "People for Huron", is the showing of the menstrual film to elementary co-educational children without the parents consent responsible? One of some teachers sent home permission slips and some did not. (A matter of public record: Board Meeting)

I believe it's against the law. One public official from our State Legislature agreed with me, with the nod of his head in the affirmative manner, in the presence of some other citizens of Huron Township, Democrats and Republicans alike.

"People for Huron", there was not only a discussion on venereal disease but the film was shown to some co-educational students in the Junior High, while some students in the Huron Senior High have not viewed this film.

You mentioned Michigan's State Board of Education having something to say about sex education. Are you referring to the old guidelines or the new?

"The new guidelines are for school districts choosing to conduct sex education programs, since they are not required by law." "The development of a local program should involve, the guidelines said, "selected members of the school board, administration, teaching staff, health councils, parents, official and voluntary agencies, professional and religious groups and civic and lay organizations."

Hurray: these are the very guidelines so many of us have waited for in Huron Township.

We want our Health Guild to have a voice, we want our religious groups to guide us, parents, teaching staff, school board members, civic organizations, but we want common sense to reign.

We'll not rubber stamp any program but devise a program that will fit the needs of the children of Huron Township. Ours must be a responsible sex education program of decency and not one where pornography is apt to seep in.

"Board Member James O'Neil approved requirements that sex must be taught as a separate subject, that parents may have their children excused from sex education classes, that instruction about birth control be banned and that "socially deviant behavior must be taught as socially deviant."

"People for Huron", will the author of your letter please inform myself and the other good citizens of Huron Township just when the "Huron Township Citizens Committee" requested" their favorite board members to negotiate for the teachers contract."

I attended that same board meeting that your president did and no such request was made or implied. Just the rights for board members period to listen in on negotiations was discussed. I am aware that you did not state this took place at a board meeting but just where and when did it take place?

Tell me "People for Huron" what do you have to say about an ex-board member's wife teaching as a substitute (she loved teaching and I heard one of the finest) as a substitute while the regular teacher was in the hospital.

Now why are you so upset about board members listening in on negotiations, or would it bother you if they all did?

By the way the "Huron Township Citizens Committee" was on the agenda and if you call the secretary of that committee, I'm sure she will read to you the time and date it was petitioned to be put on the agenda and then you can check this information with the superintendents office and check it out.

The reason I spoke at that meeting and asked so many questions was because I was asked to do so by the president of "Huron Township Citizens Committee" and therefore covered by that agenda.

Mrs. Herbert A. Bosman

Citizens' Committee responds to letter

To The Editor:

We, the citizens committee, do not know what policies have been added to our old policies by this board of education but, our attorney has advised us that all the policies we were given were legal.

The board did establish a work session to update our policies. To be exact it was passed at the April 6, 1970 meeting. Here it is Sept. 3, five months later.

How can Mr. Antcliff find fault with the board on the condition of the current policies. Who is responsible for this if it is not our board?

It is true a massive building program has been under way but why build the schools if the educational platform falls. Isn't this what we're building the schools for. When do you put buildings ahead of education.

We will not take half truths and running around the subjects for answers anymore. We are grown adults. We meet problems every day of our lives and feel we can be told the truth without going to pieces.

The lack of supplies has existed in our schools for a number of years now. Many teachers take money from their own pockets to buy supplies. No, Mr. Antcliff, we will not vote for a millage increase when money can be found to give you a five percent increase six months after you received your yearly increase of $1,000 per year. How about giving back your five percent for supplies and field trips.

The answer to our question on board meetings was another evasive answer. The state code says "The board shall hold regular meetings on the second Monday of each month, or at such other times as it may by resolution or by laws provide." The board may in its by laws provide for calling and holding special meetings." Our attorney has quoted "The law does not restrict us to one board meeting a month. We can have as many as we feel necessary for our district."

Your attorney is correct in advising you to follow the law but, has your attorney advised you that our policy is also law and should be followed, which, you admit you have not been following.

Our attorney informs us the State Code on a superintendent's contract is the same whether it is a fourth class or a third class district.

We did not say there was anything illegal about the length of time his contract would run. We asked that the first three-year contract executed between the board and Mr. Antcliff be recognized as the only legal contract in effect at this time. You were correct when you stated the contract was signed in February. It was tabled at the Jan. 19, meeting and passed Feb. 2, which is still after the Feb. 1, deadline. Thank you for correcting us.

In answer to censored material The parents were informed of the movie at Hannan Rd., but they were not informed that the movie would be viewed by mixed groups. This is just one example of your censored material.

As for the objectionable books in our schools, the parents would be more than willing to help in this situation. Many parents are willing to take part in school but do not know who to contact.

The election proved the books are objectionable to many, not just a few. What more must they do to convince you.

We are not out of keeping with society. Some of society lost its decency and morals. We, the parents, intend to try to restore the lost decency and morals to our children. It is time that we stop being followers and become leaders.

As we have stated before our policy is law. We do not know what agreements have been made in the past years but we are willing to learn.

We will be advised by our attorney as to what policies are good and what policies are in conflict with the law. We have faith this man will counsel us as to all proper guide lines to follow.

People for Huron pose facts, queries

To the Editor:

Fact: Dr. Kromer was not hired for the purpose of completing the computer scheduling program.

Fact: People For Huron are in favor of saving school money so that it can be used on needed educational improvements.

Fact: The People For Huron did not say that we were in full agreement with the program presented by Mrs. Pat Wiseley.

Fact: Similar transitional programs have been in use in other districts. Mrs. Wiseley served on a committee of the Curriculum Council that studied this program and merely made the presentation to the board. People For Huron would like to thank Mrs. Wiseley and the rest of the Curriculum Council for the job they have done.

Commissioners approve grants

A proposed new federally-funded program of health care for poor persons has been approved by the Ways and Means Committee of the Wayne County Board of Commissioners.

The program would be operated by the out-patient department of Wayne County General Hospital under a three-year, $1,437,302 grant available through the Michigan Association for Regional Medical Programs.

The Ways and Means Committee, meeting Aug. 27, also approved two other grant applications - for $1,043,000 in federal air pollution control funds and for $91,809 in state funds for a home artificial kidney training program.

Ways and Means actions are subject to approval by the full Board of Commissioners which meets Thursday, Sept. 3.

Ways and Means also approved two drain bond issues in the city of Taylor, subject to two conditions which were imposed on a 9 to 4 roll call vote, with one commissioner abstaining.

The conditions also need approval by the full board. They are that the city of Taylor:

KIDS ON THE GO!

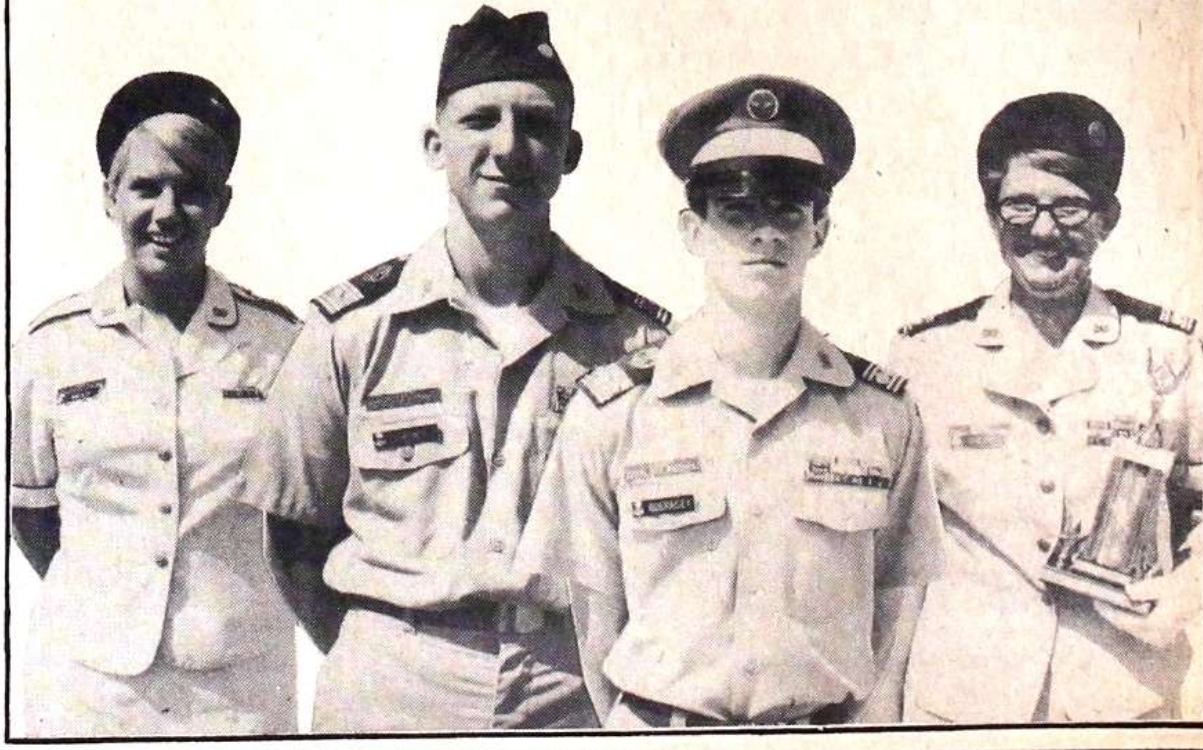

Kids on the GO...that's how you describe the boys and girls who are Cadet Members of the Civil Air Patrol. Across the United States thousands of teen-agers between the ages of 13 and 17 are enjoying the privileges, excitement and challenge of life as a CAP Cadet.

Proudly wearing their United States Air Force uniforms, CAP Cadets learn military drill and ceremonies, customs and courtesies and rank recognition. Leadership training gains more and more importance as each Cadet progresses in rank and becomes commander of his or her own Squad or Flight. It is not difficult for a Cadet to become a Sergeant while still 13, and even a Lieutenant at the age of 14. In the Wayne-Romulus Cadet Squadron, which meets every Wednesday evening at Romulus Junior High School, 11401 Olive Street, Romulus, Cadets have the opportunity to become a member of the Michigan State championship drill team, learn exhibition drill, and participate in military ceremonies each week.

Squadron meetings are open to the public, and interested teen-agers are cordially invited to stop by for a visit.

RELAXED TALK — The Concerned Parents Association of Romulus recently held their picnic at Island Lake Park. Shown are a group of parents and children having a relaxed conversation around an evening camp fire, one of the enjoyable experiences at the picnic. There was also group singing.

CHOW TIME is serious business at the recent Concerned Parents Association' camping trip to Island Lake Park. More than 50 adults and youngsters enjoyed a three-day outing.

Civil defense officials meet

The civil defense division of the State Police, in cooperation with Region 4 officials of the federal agency, will conduct seminars for CD directors next month at Grand Rapids and Ann Arbor on the increased readiness information system (IRIS), said State Police Capt. Robert B. Buchanan, deputy state civil defense director.

The seminar at Grand Rapids will be held from 9 a.m. to noon Tuesday, September 8, in the Red Cross Center at 1211 Fulton, N.E.

The one at Ann Arbor will be conducted during the same hours in the emergency operating center of the City-County Building today. Buchanan said the seminars will provide a means of familiarizing CD organizations in emergency operations. Objective of the IRIS seminar is to review its purpose, techniques, procedures for collecting IRIS data and the mechanics of reporting.

All CD directors in the state are encouraged to attend one of the seminars, he said.

Benefits exceed U.S. scholarships

Over 7 million young Americans age 18 to 22 will return to classrooms this fall. Social security benefit checks will be going along with more than 500,000 of these students, Louis Levine, social security district manager in Dearborn, announced.

added, social security benefits paid to students add up to more than the scholarships at all the colleges and universities in the country.

Crossing slated

These 500,000 students receive cash social security payments totaling some $45 million each month. They are the dependent children of workers who have retired, died, or become severely disabled. Their benefits continue until they turn 22 if they remain unmarried and in school full time.

The Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority has authorized the Michigan Department of Commerce to build a road across the Penn Central Railroad tracks between Brandes Rd. and South Huron River Dr. in Oakwoods Metropolitan Park just west of Flat Rock. The new crossing will be protected with automatic flashing-light signals.

TO OUR SON AND BROTHER

By JACKIE BARKER

I often think I see his smiling face
As he bade his last goodbye,
And he left his home forever
In a distant land to die.

His bright blue eyes and cheerful face
Are so pleasant to recall.
He had a loving word for all.
Peace be they sleep, dear son,
It is sweet to breathe thy name.

In life we loved you dearly
In death we do the same,
Oft we think of you dear son
And our hearts are sad with pain

Oh, this would be a heaven,
Could we hear your voice again.
You are gone but not forgotten
Never shall your memory fade.
Swept thoughts shall ever linger
Around the grave where you are laid.

EDITOR'S NOTE: The above poem was written in memory of Pvt. Greg Allen Barker, of Belleville killed in Vietnam, Aug. 12, 1968, son and brother of the Woodrow and Jackie Barker family.)

Romulus Scout troop has a new number

Romulus Boy Scout Troop 739 now has a new number. It is now Romulus Boy Scout Troop 1739. The reason for this was an organizational change originating from Boy Scout Headquarters.

The Troop is once again under the leadership of Scoutmaster Charles R. Kline, of Romulus? who declared that the idea is a good one for the troop to have one number added every year to the troop's official Scout number, telling all how long the troop has been in existence.

The troop's first fall meeting for 1970, will be on Sept. 14, at the Harrison Elementary School, located on Harrison, just north of Eureka Rd., starting at 7:30 p.m.

Kline asks all parents of boys eleven years and older, who might be interested in having their sons begin on the Scouting is an activity for boys, implemented by boys, and carried forward through the efforts of the boys.

TOGETHERNESS — Dogs and cats are known to be distrustful and hold dislike for one another but not in the household of Mr. and Mrs. Howard K. Florian of 29 S. Liberty St., Belleville. Their children's pets shown in the most unusual scene above prove otherwise. The French poodle, four-months-old "Poupette" stands guard over his playmate four-and-one-half months old kitten named "Priscilla."

MoToReDe film slated at school

The Belleville MoToReDe (Movement to Restore Decency) is sponsoring a film exposing sex education courses. The meeting will be at Belleville High School, Room 102, Sept. 15, at 7:30 p.m.

The meeting will explore such areas as the objectives of sex education, the results of sex education in other areas, and the promoters of sex education.

The meeting is open to the public. There is no admission charge.

FINALIST IN "QUEENS OF QUEENS" CONTEST — Miss Shalimar Beaty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edsel Beaty, 49905 Bog Rd., Belleville, is shown being congratulated as one of the 10 finalists in Michigan State Fair's "Queen of Queens" contest. Art Institute theater sets biggest season

Six separate theatre programs comprising the biggest auditorium season in the museum's history are announced for 1970-71 by Dr. Audley M. Grossman Jr., curator of theatre arts at the Detroit Institute of Arts.

Perhaps 400,000 adults and children will be entertained during the more than 200 performances scheduled September through June in the Art Institute's modernized 1200-seat auditorium now in its 43rd year of operation.

The separate series:

Detroit Youth Theatre ("Something Every Saturday").

Meadow Brook Theatre (Downtown Week).

Special Import Theatre (Adult Broadway Drama).

Film As An Art (Mae West, Bette Davis).

Detroit Premieres (International Releases).

Continental Theatre Festival (Live Foreign Drama).

Aided by the Detroit City Theatre Association, a private group supporting the performing arts at the museum, and the City of Detroit, the 10-month program opens on Sept. 17 with the dramatic tribute to Lorraine Hansberry, "To Be Young, Gifted and Black," brought from Broadway by the American Civil Liberties Union.

This first of the "Special Import Theatre" series will be followed by The National Theatre of the Deaf on Oct. 16; "Cafe La Mama" Dec. 4 and 5; and Oscar Brown Jr.'s musical "Joy" in May.

The Detroit Youth Theatre, already the largest professional youth program in the U.S., will offer 35 weeks of performances, both in schools and in the auditorium, including the public "Something Every Saturday" shows at the Art Institute.

The Continental Theatre Festival for students for foreign languages will begin Nov. 3 with two performances in Spanish by Esta Noche Teatro de Madrid. Albert Camus' "Caligula" will be presented by the touring Le Troupe de Paris Nov. 5, and "Le Misanthrope" will be performed in French by the visiting Le Centre Dramatique National du Sud-Est Feb. 10.

Detroit Premieres, co-sponsored with the Wayne University Cinema Guild, offers a series of films by international director never before seen in Detroit. Thirteen films, beginning with Truffaut's "Mississippi Mermaid" on Oct. 7 and 8, will be shown Wednesday and Thursday evenings.

Back for its 33rd year at the museum is Film as an Art, this year featuring movies with Mae West and Bette Davis. These free films will be shown once monthly on Tuesday nights, beginning Oct. 27.

Tickets and information on all programs: Ticket Office at 832-2730, the University Center for Adult Education or the Wayne Cinema Guild.

'Vanished Villages' talk set

"Vanished Villages", a program about some villages of this area that have disappeared will kick off the new season for the Greater Wayne Historical Society, at 8 p.m., Thursday, at the First Congregational Church in Wayne.

John Lents will host the program about the "vanished villages", some of which have been swallowed by nearby cities of towns and others that are now only a name on an old map.

Once these were thriving villages with Post Office and railroad station, local industry and village store.

THE ART OF BATIK - Artist Leora Korb demonstrates the art of batik in her studio - an old dairy truck. Mrs. Korb, who now lives in a New Jersey suburb, converted an old dairy truck in the middle of a junkyard into a studio because her work's "too messy." Here she applies hot beeswax to the areas of the scarf she doesn't want dyed. Then she hangs the scarves up to dry on clotheslines strung throughout her studio. Next she dips them in kerosene to remove the wax.

At the Belcrest Hotel

'Greasepaint' a small gem

The Cabaret Players present "The Roar of the Greasepaint, The Smell of the Crowd," a musical in two acts, book, music and lyrics by Leslie Briscusse and Anthony Newley, directed by Seamus O'Brien, produced by David Reynolds, choreography by Sharon Brudzewicz, conducted by Jim Kendall, set by James Lewis. At the Belcrest Hotel, Fridays and Saturdays through Sept. 26 with the following cast: Ron Otulakowski, Jim Lewis, Sharon Brudzewicz, Vera Potapenko, Chuck Storey, Bill Schenk, Chris Crimando and Kathleen Kortzy.

By HOWARD ALLEN Eagle Drama Critic

Dinner theater is nothing new. The price of star cabaret acts has made cut-down versions of full Broadway productions economically feasible in Las Vegas.

In Chicago a major dinner theater has become so well established they have built their own house complete with two stages which can be rolled on and off an elevator in a basement pit for instantaneous change of scenes.

After a run last year of Bobby Rodgers' old review, the Belcrest Hotel's cabaret, renamed from Half Pints' has become a dinner theater, the Cabaret Players.

Although their quarters are embarrassingly small, especially for musicals, extremely careful choices of vehicles—"The Fantasticks" and now "The Roar of the Greasepaint, The Smell of the Crowd," by producer David Reynolds and extremely meticulous staging by director Seamus O'Brien have turned out remarkably tailored products which fit snugly in small stage without seeming either cramped or hacked.

A few arguments could be made with the staging of the opening show, "The Fantasticks," which is by no means a parody and not to be played as farce, but the Anthony Newley-Leslie Briscusse show now running weekends is dead on target, a small gem.

The Briscusse-Newley allegory takes aim on centuries of struggle by Britain's lower classes to get out from under the heel of aristocracy, which held sway in the name of the church, the state, propaganda, trickery cunning and raw force, all packaged in the name of tradition, for eons.

Cocky and Sir are the opposing figures, playing out their game of life on a giant chalked board. The only significant rule to this game is that Sir may make up the rules as he goes along and so, of course, Sir always wins.

Eventually Cocky decides he doesn't want to play but it doesn't matter, Sir always

Batman's 'Riddler' appears

Although a veteran of over a dozen films and 70 tv variety shows, Frank Gorshin, who opens at the Elmwood Casino Thursday, for 10 days, is best known to many as the "Riddler" from the Batman Series.

A comic - impressionist whose imitations include Kirk Douglas, Burt Lancaster, Marlon Brando and Anthony Quinn, Gorshin is also an excellent singer and does several songs in his night club act.

Gorshin's film roles range from the myopic college student in "Where the Boys Are" to the psychotic killer in "Ring of Fire."

gets him to the startling line, using bribery, flattery, trickery or force. Then, with a chorus of urchins as an audience, the charade must be played again.

Ultimately, Cocky makes a startling discovery. The way to quit is - just to quit. There are plenty of other games going on. Sir, unless he decides on abandonment, must scrap his traditions and his game.

The cheerful and witty Briscusse-Newley book is enhanced by an especially attractive score including such standards as "Who Can I Turn To?" and "A Wonderful Day Like Today."

Jim Lewis' Cocky, dominated but indomitable is particularly appealing. Ron Otulakowski's Sir has its moments, but could use a touch more of whimsy. The supporting company is uniformly professional.

Anyone who hasn't tried dinner theater is urged to try a remarkably pleasant way to spend an evening.

Symphony tickets on sale

Tickets for the Detroit Symphony Orchestra 1970-71 concert performances are on sale at the Ford Auditorium Box Office, all J.L. Hudson Company stores, and the 17 Grinnell's stores in the Metropolitan area.

The opening concert of the season will be given on Thursday, September 17.

'Watermelon Man' --interesting idea doesn't come off

Columbia Pictures presents a Bennett, Mirrell, Van Peebles production, "Watermelon Man," produced by John B. Bennett, executive producer, Leon Mirrell, directed and music by Melvin Van Peebles, written by Herman Raucher. Rated R. At the Studio Eight with Godfrey Cambridge and Estelle Parsons.

By HOWARD ALLEN Eagle Drama Critic

Most critics would assume that audiences have become increasingly more sophisticated since leprechaun magic turned a cardboard segregationist black in "Finian's Rainbow" more than a generation ago, but you'd never know it judging by "Watermelon Man."

There's a rather interesting idea floating around here somewhere. Godfrey Cambridge is a brash, bigoted insurance salesman who, for reasons not thoroughly delineated-Cambridge seems to think it because he uses a sunlamp too much-wakes up black one morning.

But in "Watermelon Man," a title which is said the mere mention of which can drive Cambridge into a fury, the idea never surfaces.

Cambridge, unfortunately reacts with all the entional depth of a Jackie Gleason braggart in a Mack Sennett nickelodeon. He plasters himself with bleaches and face creams. He showers for hours. Oh yes, he screams a lot. And he attacks a man delivering a sun lamp.

If ever he exhibits an honest emotion, it escapes notice. But ultimately-and is this the firm's putdown?-he copes rather easily. Deserted by a once-liberal wife, Estelle Parsons, he opens his own insurance firm and seeks a black market. Frankly, he copes far more easily than one would suspect.

Godfrey Cambridge's characterization is all on the surface. There is a delightful opening sequence when the physical culture nut races a bus and wins, to the disappointment of passengers who can't stand so much noise that early in the morning-and that's the film's high peak.

The only other note of interest is the makeup in the early scenes in which Cambridge appears white.

From fright at the rushes, no doubt.

Romulus is looking for quarterback

THIS IS HOW IT'S DONE --- Coach George Pratt demonstrates the proper stance for his linemen to prepare themselves for the bone jarring contact of line play. The Eagles are in their third week of practice in preparation for their Sept. 18 opener against Inkster.

'Defense is ready' - coach Pratt

Coach George Pratt has a headache. And if the Romulus football coach isn't careful, he may develop an ulcer.

It appears that his Romulus grid outfit is suffering from a stalled offense and the problem appears to be in the ignition system. It just can't get started.

Pratt is now searching for a quarterback and center combination that can get his offense into high gear. It's a little late to be looking for someone as vital as a quarterback, but that's the situation at Romulus High School.

Ken McMann, last year's junior varsity signal-caller, has been performing the QB function and the Romulus mentor has also installed sophomore, Virgil Smith into the varsity but it just doesn't look good at the moment," said Pratt.

"What we're after is a take charge type of fellow that can lead our team out there, that is what we really need," Pratt moaned. "So far no one has taken over."

As if things were not bad enough the Eagles are plagued by the lack of a consistent center. "We just haven't been able to get the ball into action. We're hurting at two very important spots, right where it's all at, so to speak," coach Pratt said.

With the exception of their problems at quarterback the Eagles are all set with an offense, that is capable of moving the ball if they can get hold of it.

At the moment Pratt has been running three backs at the two halfback positions. These include two returning lettermen in Ron Kersey and Tony Hoffman. These two have been sharing the ball carrying assignments with newcomer Brent Hamilton.

Pratt says he has to have a strong passing attack if his running game is to be effective and though he has some questions about his passers there is now doubt in his mind about receivers. Dave Jones, a senior end has come up with "some real nice catches" according to Coach Pratt. If the Eagles can get the ball out there Pratt is confident that Jones will be able to haul them in.

Abdo will pull guard duty for the Eagle offense.

Despite the Eagle's offensive problems, the defensive squad has given Pratt plenty to smile about. "I'm quite pleased with our defensive unit, they hit pretty good and in scrimmage there are always a lot of people in on every tackle which is a good sign."

Especially heartwarming for Pratt has been the outstanding work of his defensive ends, senior Perry

Tiger opener nears

By MIKE HENDRICKS

Time is fleeting, and as Belleville's gridiron date with Wayne Memorial nears Tiger coach Keith Emerson is taking a close, hard look at his charges in an effort to determine just how good a team he does have.

So far, Emerson's hardest look has probably been at the quarterback position where junior Mike Garland has taken command of the situation. The former junior varsity signal caller "has improved at an exceptional rate," in the words of his coach. "At this point he is my number one man. He throws the ball adequately and he runs well.

"Emerson also believes the 5'10", 155-pound Garland will bring a much needed field leadership to his Tiger team.

Garland may have the advantage in his bid for the shot at quarterback, but he does have to fight for the job. According to Emerson, another junior, Mark Wilkinson, has been making the competition for the signal caller's chores a hot battle.

Over-all the Tiger offense should be more than adequate. The new Belleville coach is blessed with an abundance of runners who can get the job done.

Leading the Tiger charge out of the backfield will be Garrard Pettus and Tony Ogletree. Both runners have proved themselves in last year's conflicts and are out to do it again for the Tigers.

Ogletree, has responded very well into his shift from an end slot to the fullback position.

Garland, Pettus and Ogletree are not the only ones who will be carrying the Tigers ball this year, they will be joined by vets Dave Remus and John Tompson along with newcomer Mike Dansard.

Dansard is only a sophomore and already he has caught Emerson's eye as a player with ability.

The line is another plus factor for the Tigers. There is 6'1", 190 pound Mark Pellichiato who holds down the right tackle spot. This All-Conference lineman is always ready to take care of anybody who might stray to his side of the field. Dan Smith will join Pellichiato to handle the opposing defense from his spot at right guard and Steve Billings will be on hand at the center of the lines.

Emerson has a lot of confidence in his line's ability to do their duty. "These boys have experience and some of the linemen are outstanding players, on defense, especially we should be all set, but my line is probably going to go both ways."

Defensively, Emerson has been drilling his charges on a variety of formations. "We are going to utilize both a containing and penetrating type of defense. It will all depend on the situation," the Tiger coach said.

"The secret to our whole team," Emerson confided, "will be our ability to

Lake trout thrive in state waters

LANSING — A short while back, Dr. Wayne Today, chief of the Natural Resources Department's fish division, was asked the most satisfactory aspect of the state's fish management program.

Without much hesitation he answered, "The comeback of the lake trout."

In the face of overwhelming success and acceptance of the Great Lakes salmon program — credited in no small part today — it seems at first glance a strange statement. But it's not.

Lake trout today are providing the most consistent fishing action from Saugatuck to Mackinac on Lake Michigan and Sault Ste. Marie to Black River Harbor on Lake Superior. And even though salmon fishing is overshadowing everything in the Great Lakes right now, when the salmon have run for another year, when the steelhead runs taper off in winter, lakies will still be caught.

Truly, lake trout are a year-round fish, offering consistently good fishing from a boat or on the ice.

Sea lamprey control and eventual tight regulation of commercial gill nets spelled success for restocking programs. Since 1964, the federal government has supplied more than 24 million lakies for Michigan waters, and most have been released along the Lake Michigan and Lake Superior shorelines.

Their growth record has been excellent, also.

Since 1964, some released lakies have grown to 12-14 pounds. Catches in Grand Traverse Bay, for instance, where gill netting has been forbidden for some years now, were averaging around 9-10 pounds this spring and summer.

Catching them wasn't especially difficult, and a good many charterboat skippers, especially on the Lake Superior shoreline, are again guaranteeing catches to customers. No lake trout, no pay. At least one skipper in

Huron "11" must be injury free to win

Injuries will be a vital factor determining Huron High's football fortunes this season.

The Chiefs have 22 players on the varsity squad and any loss of manpower could be fatal to coach Lee Smeltzer's hopes for a winning season.

Another "iffy" factor confronting the Huron Grid mentor is the quality of the Chief's offensive line. "Our line is green," Smeltzer admitted, "and we have only two returning starters from last year's squad in tackle, Jack Gracia and Ron Thompson at end.

Smeltzer has been impressed with the performance of his inexperienced blockers, but "you can't really tell just how good they are until they have played a game. We're just going to have to wait until Sept. 18 to see what kind of line we do have," he said.

After two weeks of practice it looks like the Chiefs' interior line will average about 175 pounds. Veteran tackle Jack Gracia will bolster the interior line with his 198-pounds. At the other tackle spot will be joined by Mike Wauer while Ron Thompson and Chuck Cameron will handle the two guard positions.

The center post, at the moment, is the scene of a real dogfight between Henry Koszykowski and Bruce Bullard. Neither player has let up and coach Smeltzer just can't make up his mind who will get the starting assignment.

The two end positions will be held down by gridders Bill Maddich and Dan Clark.

Sports meridian

'That team' again

By TOM MOORADIAN

Len Natkowski, another member of "That Team" in Wayne tried to corner the Sports Meridian the other day in an off-gridiron bet.

Of course we were too wise for the rugged "meanie", who is busy getting the Zebra line in shape for their opener with Belleville.

And when we saw past his plot, he invited us down to the Flats to watch the Zebras practice.

After I informed him he was out of his mind to think I would ever go near "What Team" unless protected by old man Patton himself, I asked: "Are you guys really serious about winning a game this season?"

"Nope," he said.

Ahhhh. We not only have a convert to the Sports Meridian's way of thinking, but a traitor as well, we thought.

"We're not going to win one game," answered the husky 230-pound (that's an estimate) "we're going to win them all. And when we do, we're going to stampee our Zebras right into the office and then let them determine if your hide is worth tanning.

"I wish you'd stick your neck out and publicly announce what you did a couple of years ago," pleaded Natkowski.

"That" announcement a couple of years ago was to wager a stack of steaks that Wayne Memorial would not win a game in the then Huron Rouge League (Whoever did win that bet? Heh, heh, heh.)

Naw, my betting days are over, Nat. Charlie Buck has taught me the supreme lesson — if he can't pick 'em when he's got all the facts piled up, then who am I to try?

But, let the records show today — boo on the Zebras and huray. And huray. And Huray for Belleville!

Something new in Mid-Wayne

Speaking of Wayne, we hope the Zebras realize that this is the last season that they can avenge some of those losses to Dearborn, Edsel Ford and Ypsilanti — in football.

Yes, the four-team Sauk Trail Conference is headed for dissolution after the winter sports program. Wayne will never again cross paths with their present league rivals after 1970 unless it be nonleague competition.

And don't think you Zebras will have it any easier next season either. You'll be stuck in the Mid-Wayne Conference where Garden City East, Taylor Center, Lutheran West, Robichaud, Inkster and Annapolis won't exactly roll out any red carpet for you. Maybe, a doormat. But definitely not a carpet.

Annapolis, of course, is the newest addition in the Mid-Wayne. The Dearborn Heights high school also has a new coach whom many of the swimming mentors in our Eagle area will quickly recognize. He's David Keddie who last year nonchalantly swam into the Associated Newspapers annual Swimming Invitational and strolled off with first place and a lot of trophies — to our dismay.

Keddie also feels he and his Cougars are going to do some sort of repeat performance on the gridiron. We wouldn't bet

Defensively, Smeltzer expects to stunt quite a bit. He said that he would like to set up a 4-3 and 5-2 defensive formation. With his manpower situation the way it is, Smeltzer said that he feels he can get the most out of his boys if he operates a containing rather than a penetrating style of defense.

"We are real short on numbers," the coach continued, and injuries could hurt us a lot. We've only got 28 people on the varsity."

"We will be alright if we get our execution down pat and if we can eliminate mistakes. It is always the team that makes the fewest mistakes that comes out the big winner," Emerson said.

“Speak Out” forum

Governor William G. Milliken, has announced that “Speak Out,” an open forum on women’s rights sponsored by the Michigan Women’s Commission, will be held in Detroit’s WWJ Auditorium on Wednesday, Sept. 16, from 1 to 7 p.m.

“The purpose of the forum,” explained Mrs. William Shertzer, forum chairman, “is to allow Michigan women to express their views concerning how the Commission can more effectively serve our state’s women.”

“We are inviting women to offer suggestions on how the Commission can become more responsive to the needs of Michigan women and to speak out on inequities they have suffered because of their sex,” she said.

The Michigan Women’s Commission, a 15-member panel of women appointed by the Governor to study and review the status of women in Michigan, has been active in the struggle to overcome discrimination against women in employment.

123 teams to launch CYO’s 29th grid year

The Catholic Youth Organization’s grade school boys football league, the biggest scholastic grid network in Michigan, will open its twenty-ninth campaign during the week of Sept. 27 with an enrollment of 123 teams from Detroit and fifty-eight adjacent communities.

Athletic Director Frank Connolly will partition the circuit into 17 divisions. He estimates that the league will have more than 4,000 players under contract.

The CYO league has enjoyed remarkable growth since its founding in 1942 with a dozen schools. The league pioneered in offering well-organized football competition for boys in the seventh and eighth grades.

Teams will play a seven-week season to determine the championships of co-championships of their divisions. In most instances, a team will play each of the other teams in its division once to provide an equitable basis for awarding the championship. There will be postseason playoff among divisions winners for the league title.

The code of the Michigan High School Athletic Association governs league play except that CYO teams are limited to eight-minute periods. Two paid officials, approved by the MHSAA, are assigned to each league game.

Eligible to compete are boys who attend the Catholic School they represent, or Catholic boys who reside in the parish. All players must be in the eighth grade or lower. Maximum age is 14 years and the maximum weight is 146 pounds with full equipment except shoes. A boy becomes ineligible on his fifteenth birthday.

“This is a fun league,” says Connolly. “The boys play to win, of course, but they learn to lose gracefully, too. Most of all, they enjoy the game. They love to play.”

In order to keep it a fun league, Connolly in 1964 instituted a special rule which requires a team to send at least six substitutes when it gets 18 or more points ahead, and to keep six subs in the lineup until the lead dwindles to less than 18 points. The rule has won wide acclaim as one of the most sensible regulation in amateur sports.

Attendance down at fair

DETROIT (AP) — The State Fair ended Labor Day Monday in Detroit with attendance down about 20,000 from one year ago for the event.

The drop in attendance is blamed on bad weather. Officials say it rained on the first Saturday of the 1970 fair and there were tornado warnings in effect the first Sunday of the event.

Officials say a total of 892,706 saw the fair this year, compared with 913,784 last year for the same number of days.

Dollars will be used as the currency rating in Bermuda, replacing the British system of pounds, according to plans.

Meet Ford's new Pinto. The little carefree car.

If you have the questions, Pinto has the answers.

Q. What do you mean, “carefree”?
A. Pinto’s designed to free you from car cares, big and little. Cares about high prices and big gas bills. Cares about parking. Cares about service and reliability. Power and stability. Quiet and roominess.

Q. You say Pinto is little. How little?
A. Pinto is only 3 inches longer than VW. But its turning circle is actually a little less, so Pinto can slip easily into tight parking spaces.

Q. And inside?
A. Pinto gives you more interior roominess overall than Volkswagen. And getting in and out is easier because Pinto’s doors are a good half-foot wider.

Q. What about price?
A. Pinto is priced like the little economy imports, too.

Q. What about power?
A. Pinto delivers 75 horsepower and averages over 25 miles per gallon in simulated city/suburban driving. The engine is front-mounted and exceptionally quiet for a car in this class. Pinto is the only American economy car equipped with a 4-speed, fully synchronized transmission at no extra cost.

Q. What else is standard equipment?
A. High Back bucket seats. Direct-Aire ventilation with upper-level fresh air outlets. Heater defroster with 3-speed fan. Two-speed electric windshield wipers. Electric windshield washers. Your choice of 15 exterior colors. And more.

Q. How about optional extras?
A. Pinto offers a 100-hp engine and 3-speed automatic transmission. Front disc brakes. Even built-in air conditioning. Tinted glass. Vinyl roof. “Flipper” rear quarter windows. Fold-down rear seat. Bumper guards and side molding with vinyl inserts to protect the paint. More than most imports offer—at prices economy-car buyers can afford.

Q. Reliability?
A. Pinto’s engine has already logged 50 million owner-driven miles. And the strength of some of Pinto’s parts makes ordinary little economy cars look puny by comparison. Parts like the starter motor, ball joints, rear wheel bearings are heavy duty. Craftsmanship? Pinto is the only American car with hand-matched transmission gears.

Q. What’s Pinto like out on the road?
A. Pinto has a wider stance than any economy import, for better stability in turns and gusty crosswinds. For more road feel, and more precise handling, Pinto has rack & pinion steering—like Porsche and Jaguar—something you won’t find on any other American car.

Q. Tell me about service.
A. Pinto is so simple you can do much of the maintenance yourself, if you like. The Owner’s Manual shows you how. And Pinto’s free Do-It-Yourself Key helps you perform minor service functions.

Q. Suppose I don’t service Pinto myself?
A. You still save when your Ford Dealer does it. For example, Pinto needs an oil change half as often as the leading import. And a chassis lube only one-sixth as often.

Q. Sounds great—where can I test-drive Pinto?
A. Your nearest Ford Dealer. And if you have any more questions, he can answer them.

The young people, urban and suburban as well as rural, study their own pets and other animals, explore careers and consider safeguards of public health.

And 4-H participants have come up with a new vocabulary ranging from abomasum (fourth division of the ruminant's stomach) to zoonoses (diseases transmissible between man and animal).

Bank tells

Lowell L. Peacock, president of Security Bank and Trust Company, Southgate, Michigan, announced that a quarterly cash dividend of 30 cents per share be declared, payable Oct. 1, 1970, to shareholders of record as of Sept. 15, 1970.

Front disc brakes as standard equipment on all but Chevy Vans highlight the many improvements in the 1971 Chevrolet light truck line. The disc brake system has a proportioning device for more balanced braking between front and rear wheels. Also new are a more massive looking grille, improved cab seating and ventilation, and more powerful headlamps. All engines will operate on the new lower lead fuels and meet required Federal emission standards.

Detroit Archdiocese streamline operations

An initial saving of $40,000 a year on collection envelope costs alone is expected by approximately 200 Archdiocese of Detroit parishes as a result of a merger of existing computer services. Each can save an average of $200 a year.

"This a promising start in cost-cutting which should grow as others of the 345 Detroit-area Catholic parishes adopt computerized services," said Dr. Arthur X. Deegan, director of the Archdiocesan Office of Planning and Research.

"A study conducted by a firm of accountants has shown opportunities for economy by parishes, schools and other institutions through streamlining of combined files and mailing lists, combining various services, and through other efficiencies resulting from our new data processing office."

Grass roots

On the other hand most of them are trying to lower taxes and get grants from the federal government. They succeed or fail in all of the projects in varying degrees generally because of circumstances beyond their control. Basically most of these communities are about the same. The things that makes them different is that one is your hometown. Boost your community, it helps everyone."

Waltham, Mass., News-Tribune: "Up in New Haven, Conn., Yale University has come into quite a bit of money. Confederate money, and Yale is delighted. Thanks to a gift of some 9,000 notes and other once-negotiable C.S.A. paper, Yale now has one of the largest and most valuable collections of Confederate currency in the world, worth something like $100,000 on today's booming collector's market. You don't have to look far for the ironic point. What with the dollar continuing to lose its battle with inflation, saving Confederate money turns out to have been a good idea after all."

Elk Point, S.D., Leader-Courier: "We exchange papers with many of the papers in the surrounding area. After reading them for a time you discover that most small communities have about the same problems and the same goals. They are all searching for new industry, more people and better facilities."

Shidler, Okla., Review: "Of course all the chatter about the 'truth in packaging' bills in congress is a bunch of window dressing for the folks back home, but it will give those public servants an excuse to set up dozens of more boards, inspectors, department heads, assistants, etc. You might ask your representative or senator about the law that went into effect July 1, adding 3 percent to the price of all airline tickets, the raise to go to the government. It will not be designated as a tax on the ticket, and any agent who tells a purchaser that the 3 percent addition is a tax can be fined $100 for each time he tells the deep, dark secret. Do you think the Russians can beat that?"

Consider this — On which day of the week do you get the most work done? My best days are Tuesday and Saturday. Almost invariably. Why is a mystery. At any rate, the question arises because a time and motion scholar contends his studies indicate Monday and Thursday are those two days of the week when the majority of men accomplish the most. They do the least, he claims, on Friday.

General tendencies: A day and evening to consider opinions, viewpoints, and information different from that which has been a part of your training and regular existence. Such new ideas can open up for you a highly satisfactory outlet for future expression. Keep aware of new viewpoints.

Aries (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Plan to do some traveling or visit places that provide an opportunity to see how the other half of the world is living. See what others of varying experience will do to assist you. Avoid time-wasters.

Taurus (Apr. 20 to May 20) Follow your hunches since they are apt to be quite accurate. Show that you are truly interested in attachment and get right response. An irate superior could be quite a taskmaster if you permit.

Gemini (May 21 to June 21) Whatever you do that brings about greater comprehension with associates is good but you have to do more listening to know their view. Make new worthwhile contacts and find new outlets.

Moon Children (June 22 to July 21) With all those jobs ahead of you, you scarcely know where to begin but plunge in enthusiastically and much will be accomplished. Backing co-workers is half the trick. Aim to please others.

Leo (July 22 to Aug. 21) If you get your important work done early, the rest of the day and evening can be very pleasant for social and other activities you enjoy. If you use that smile more, mate will be more affable.

Virgo (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Try to go along with what kin desire and forget self for the time being. This is one of the ways to get rid of whatever stands in the way of harmony with them. Evening is a good time for study.

Libra (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Handle those duties now that require your own attention exclusively. Then get a clear picture of your financial position. Take care of correspondence, prepare statements and do similar paper work. Steer clear of hrouble of any kind.

Scorpio (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) You can handle financial problems with intelligence now, so get busy early. Follow your intuition as to what you should do to better your position and act quickly. Avoid extravagance.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Ideal day to invest in a wardrobe that improves your appearance remarkably. Then out to some social affair in p.m. that gives you a new lease on life. Plan future activities with wisdom.

Capricorn (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Perfect day for investigative work and getting the right solution to problems. Use different means to garner data. Benign particularly romantic with mate brings fine response in p.m.

Aquarius (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) You have some special plans to go over with good friends and this is a fine morning to begin. Have fun, too. State your ideas lucidly and you have greater success.

Pices (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) There are many career duties for you to handle now. Be efficient and get as early a start as you can on them. Know what it is that a bigwig expects of you and follow through willingly. Don't get frustrated.

If your child is born today... he or she will be one of those fascinating young people who will have large ideas that are different from those found in his early surroundings. Be certain to give the finest educational advantages possible to prepare your progeny for the interesting kind of life possible to such an unusual and attractive nature. Varying philosophies of life should be studied here. Give freedom of religious expression. College is a must.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to you.

Open question — Is it true nobody ever blushes in the dark?

Don't forget now, those who collect labels off matchboxes are phillumenists, those who collect matchbooks are philliberumenists, and those who collect matchboxes are cumyxaphists. Got that? Among the house rules of a certain athletic club is one which specifies that no man may bring his mistress unless she is married to another member. Isn't that just terribly sophisticated, Cynthia, you little bunny rabbit you?

In Venezuela the underground cells of Los Castillos Prison fill up with water twice daily. When the tides come in. Fill up, but not quite. If a prisoner tall or short stands straight, the water rises to his chest or chin, but never higher. Once the peculiar torture chambers were secret. And political prisoners were locked therein. Can you imagine what went through the minds of those frightened men when first they watched the water rise? No, sir, Edgar Allen Poe did not dream this up. It's true.

Rapid reply — That's right, Mrs. G., once an alligator is three years and three feet long, he doesn't have to be scared of anything except you and me.

Title I workshop ends at Rawsonville

A four-evening workshop, under the sponsorship of Van Buren Public Schools' Title I
Program, was held at Rawsonville Elementary
School from Aug. 24-27.

During the workshop, a total of 175 parents, teachers and students were in attendance.

Dr. Jonas Chenault,
consultant on mental health,
Michigan Department of Health, directed this workshop and proved an excellent resource person in assisting teachers, parents and students to become more sensitive to the needs of kindergartners and first graders.

TITLE I PROGRAM WORKSHOP — More than 175 parents, teachers, school administrators and students participated in a four-evening workshop (Aug. 24-27) under sponsorship of Title I Program at Van Buren Public Schools. Above are some who shared in the workshop's activities. Left (white shirt) is Raymond Kohr, director of curriculum and instruction. Back in camera is Mrs. Leona Kozma, reading consultant, of Van Buren Schools.

He also competently led the group in reaching basic conclusions on ways self responsibility could be introduced at kindergarten and first grade level.

The component leading towards self responsibility for introduction in specific kindergarten and first grade classrooms was Perseverance towards maximum growth in reading and positive social behavior and perseverance in helping others achieve their maximum growth in academic and social behavior.

Perseverance was decided on in part because a recent survey indicated that lack of perseverance towards either a positive or negative goal was a somewhat common denominator among youths in detention.

STUDENT PARTICIPANTS — Part of the group of student participants at the four-evening workshop held under the sponsorship of Title I Program of Van Buren Schools is shown above. The workshop was held at Rawsonville Road Elementary School and attended by 175 persons. Left to right are: Dennis Bodenmiller (standing), Keith Patolocco, Glen Reinhackel, Karen Skszek, Mrs.
Marian Clark (standing), Rene Liedel, Vicki Dansard, Dr.
Jones Chenault, consultant; Gaeney Kozma, Jackie Webb and Linda Montie.

Old cars to take spotlight

The 20th annual Old Car
Festival, complete with 350 proud and shiny antique automobiles, ancient high wheel bicycles, fascinating special exhibits and a ragtime band, bursts forth at Greenfield Village on Sept.
12 and 13.

A panorama of the history of America's early motoring days unfolds as pre-1925 cars show the mettle of both drivers and machines in series of races and contests. The "newer" cars, 1917-1925, go through their paces on Saturday while the old timers, 1898-1916, perform on Sunday.

Judged on the authenticity of their restoration, the blue ribbon winners are eligible for the Grand Championship judging that climaxes each day. Since the Old Car
Festival is recognized as one of the largest and finest events of its kind in the country, the awards are highly coveted.

For the first time this year the "Wheelmen," a national organization devoted to the restoration and riding of antique high wheel bicycles are participating in the Old Car Festival. They will ride in the opening parade and give a special presentation of their

THE LUV MACHINE A GAS DRYER

It's love, pure and simple, the first time you use The Luv Machine, a Gas dryer.
And why not? A Gas dryer is so good to clothes. Leaves them soft, fresh-smelling.
In fact, a special setting gently caresses permanent press things so they don't need any ironing. And there's the way a Gas dryer saves money. Dries five loads of clothes for the price of one load in an electric dryer. Does a load up to 10 minutes faster, besides. Buy a Gas dryer at your appliance dealer's or Michigan Consolidated showrooms. You'll luv everything about it.

Put a Little Away for a Nicer Tomorrow

A THOUGHT TO REMEMBER

BY HAROLD REDISKE, DIRECTOR

WHO? MX. . . ? IMPORTANT. . . ? Yks. You are important. This illustration shows you why . . .

This typewriter works O.K. except for one key. With 46 other keys, you might think this one key would not count for much. But this one key is needed so badly, the whole works is fouled up on account of it.

In your home, your work, your church, your club, you are only one person. But you are a key person. You are just as important as this key on the typewriter. Any time you think differently, you can foul things up just like this one key does.

Xdmund Burck puts it another way — "All that is necessary for the forces of evil to win in the world is for enough good men to do nothing."

New Baptist institute opens in Ypsilanti

Dr. Tom Malone, president of Midwestern Baptist College in Pontiac, announced this week the establishment of a new educational institute for advanced learning, to be located in the Ypsilanti area.

Southeastern Michigan Baptist Bible Institute, located at 2146 Moeller in Ypsilanti, will offer courses in Bible study, Bible-related subjects, English, history, sociology, speech and other academic subjects.

Classes will be conducted four nights a week from 6:30 p.m. until 10:40 p.m. Students may attend either two or four nights a week, and earn from two to sixteen college credits each semester.

Courses may be taken for credit or for self-improvement purposes.

"The new Institute," states Dr. Malone, "is particularly designed to give those individuals who wish to learn how to become more effective Christians an opportunity to further their education."

"Citizens in the Ypsilanti area who are employed during the day, who have family obligations, or who have just finished high school will be able to continue their education in evening classes."

"The Institute curriculum is planned in conjunction with the Midwestern Baptist College curriculum, and serious students will be able to earn a college degree."

Southeastern Michigan Baptist Bible Institute, created to meet the needs often expressed by area residents, is a result of the co-operative efforts of Southeastern Michigan Fundamental Baptist Fellowship and Midwestern Baptist College.

Operating on a regular semester basis, the Institute will conduct evening classes in the newly enlarged and remodeled Rawsonville

Sewer bids are studied

Six construction contract bids for a sewer main to service the General Motors Truck and Coach Division's large warehouse at Willow Run Airport are under study by Van Buren Township Engineer, Morris Levine and Associates of Detroit.

The bids received by the township board last week were referred to the engineer and with instructions for tabulation and determination of low bid.

Levine will report his findings to Edward C. Stoelton who was ordered to select the lowest bidder.

The bids ranged from $145,35 to $225,716.

The board also received bids on 300 water service taps, asphalt paving on the township's tennis court and on the driveway to the courts and bids on video taping of future construction sites in the township.

These bids were also referred to Levine.

Milking machine developed

A semi-automatic milking system that will greatly increase present milking rates has been developed by dairy researchers at Michigan State University.

This system, which has an automated detaching unit, can help a farmer milk 80 to 120 cows per hour, according to Dr. C.A. Lassiter, MSU dairy researcher. That's two or three times the rate of milking systems now being used.

Community Baptist Church building at 2146 Moeller.

Rev. James Phillips, pastor of the church, states that the new building addition was specifically designed for educational as well as religious services.

Registration began at 6:30 p.m. on Tuesday, Sept. 8 at 2146 Moeller, Ypsilanti. Classes will begin at 6:30 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 10. Additional information may be obtained by telephoning 482-7727.

Hydrant ordinance approved by township

The Van Buren Township Board has approved an ordinance regulating the opening of township's fire hydrants.

The township board acted last week after hearing reports of a series of fire hydrant-openings during evening hours with resulted cost to the township from water released and property damage.

The ordinance regulates the opening of fire hydrants, the use of water from hydrants and prohibits obstructing access to fire hydrants.

Any person violating the terms of the ordinance can be sent to jail for terms up to 90 days, or fined $500 or both upon conviction.

The ordinance also states that it is unlawful for any person to open any fire hydrant or use any water without first getting permission from the township to do so.

The township board also adopted a resolution authorizing the payment of $50 reward to anyone who brings about the arrest and subsequent conviction of person or persons found violating the ordinance.

Board members were also told that vandals have been opening the hydrants at night and letting them run.

Governor praises ecology boosters

Gov. William G. Milliken has commended the efforts of 18-year-old Rosemary Kuhn and Paul Wiley, also 18, of Grosse Ile, Mich., to save our environment.

Miss Kuhn and Wiley wrote and personally delivered this summer a handbook "Guidelines for Citizen Action on Environmental Problems," to all the residents of Grosse Ile.

The handbook offers answers to the question that all those who are concerned about our environment ask: "What can I do personally to lessen pollution?"

In a letter to Miss Kuhn, Governor Milliken congratulated the two for the time and effort they spent in showing their concern for ecology.

"It is genuinely heartwarming to learn what our youth can and are doing to help preserve our environment," the Governor wrote.

"I thank you for your assistance in Michigan's fight against pollution."

MEA students participate

Representatives of the Student MEA will begin participating as non-voting members of the board of directors of the Michigan Education Association this month.

In an effort to get a better understanding of student attitudes of educational problems in Michigan, the MEA board has approved action to invite the state student group's president, Mack Gaut, or his representative, to work with them on a regular basis.

Gaut is a graduate student at Wayne State University, with a stipend from MEA to spend part-time working for the interests of students in teacher-education statewide.

More 1971 models make their debut

COUGAR FOR 1971 — The new Cougar receives its most dramatic changes since it was introduced four years ago. A classic grille, suggestive of the Continental Mark III, highlights the new design. The top-of-the-line XR-7 model, shown here, has a new standard three-quarter length vinyl roof framed in a color-keyed accent molding. Cougar is available in both hardtop and convertible styles.

MAXIWAGON — The 1971 Dodge Royal Sportsman is the largest compact wagon on the market yet measures almost 12 inches less than a full size station wagon. Full range of optional equipment includes power steering, power brakes, air conditioning and AM/FM stereo radio. Wheelbase: 27 inches; standard engines: 225 cubic inch slant six, 318 cubic inch V-8.

CHEYENNE FLEETSTYLE — Front Disc brakes as standard equipment on all but Chevy Vans highlight the many improvements in the 1971 light duty Chevrolet truck line. Improved features include a massive looking grille, improved cab seating and ventilation and more powerful headlamps. All engines are equipped to accommodate new lower-lead fuels and to meet Federal emission standards where required.

MOD STYLE — Dodge Challengers for 1971 feature and styling and more people room than most sporty cars. Available in coupes, hardtops and convertibles. Ideal sports car for the budget minded.

Ford will offer all new lines

Local Ford dealers will be the headquarters for distribution of the 1971 line of Ford Division cars and trucks, including the new subcompact Pinto and the restyled Ford and Mustang lines.

Pinto will be on display beginning Friday, Sept. 11. The remainder of the 1971 cars and trucks will debut the following Friday.

Smallest of the domestic subcompacts, Pinto is four inches longer, eight inches wider, and seven inches lower than the leading import. Ford Division's spacious "mini" car also offers more interior room, including more rear seat knee room and six inches more front seat shoulder room.

This two-door sedan is powered by a front-mounted, 75 horsepower 1,600 cubic centimeter (97.6 cubic inch) engine. The optional power plant is a 2,000 on (122 cubic-inch) overhead cam engine rated at 100 horsepower.

Standard features include a floor-mounted, four-speed, fully-synchronized transmission; sports-car-type rack and pinion steering; bucket seats, and 15 colors ranging from Pinto Gold to Model T black.

The 1971 Mustang — most changed since the original model six years ago — features a sports car feel and a European design flavor.

The unique "flat roof" of the Sports Roof models and the distinctive "tunnel backlite" of the high-fashion hardtop highlight Mustang design changes. Mustang's power comes from nine engines beginning with the 145-horsepower, 250-c.i.d. Six to the 375-h.p. version of the 429 4V powerhouse.

"The action in 1971 is bound to be in the small car arena, and our little Pinto is going to be right in the thick of the donnybrook," said John Naughton, Ford vice-president and Ford Division general manager.

Now nearing the half million mark in sales, Maverick for 1971 adds a four-door model and a Grabber sport sedan to its original two-door offering.

The new four-door model is seven inches longer than the two-door. The increase in length has substantially increased rear seat leg room.

The sporty Grabber sedan, a car that says performance on the outside but economy under the hood, features Rally-type road lamps and twin non-functional hood scoops on a specially-painted hood.

Ford's new side-impact protection system is standard on all 1971 Mustangs. New high and low series grilles, ventless side windows on all models, concealed windshield wipers, new taillight design and three new roof designs are the major exterior changes.

Thunderbird -- the industry's most popular personal luxury car -- carries exterior and interior refinements including a new more formal roofline on the two-door Landau, and a more streamlined roofline on the hardtop model and four-door model.

Torino for 1971 has refined, not changed its award-winning design of 1970 models. A revised base Torino series and a new Torino 500 series have been added while the Fairlane 500 and Falcon series have been discontinued.

On the Ford truck scene — more than 1,300 models ranging from the Ranchero luxury pickup to the W-series over-the-road highway tractor make up the formidable, league-leading line for 1971.

Ford light trucks for 1971 feature car-like handling and the functional ability to perform any light-duty job.

Unemployment up July figures show

William R. Ford, Director of the Michigan Employment Security Commission, said today that about one worker for every eleven in Michigan's labor force was unemployed in July for a total of 328,000 people unemployed and a resulting increase of the unemployment rate to 9.1 percent compared with 8.7 percent in June.

Ford said the 1970 July rate was the highest for that month since 1961 when 10.0 percent of the labor force were unemployed.

Employment in the state declined by over 100,000 in June and July, with nearly half of the reduction occurring in the motor vehicle industry. Heavy short-term layoffs took place throughout the manufacturing sector because of the annual model changeover activities. Total manufacturing employment fell by 66,000 in July.

"Employment in the government sector also recorded a short decline with an increase of 36,000 throughout the state. Most of the personnel reductions occurred in education and related employment as school staffs were cut for the summer.

"It is anticipated that the current level of unemployment will mark the high point for this year and that the idle labor force surplus will decline in August and September. Michigan traditionally reaches its high unemployment mark for the year during the summer months when model changeover layoffs are at their peak. This year's unemployment activity is within this pattern, and we believe the substantial increase in unemployment since May to be a temporary seasonal fluctuation rather than a long-term worsening of the labor market situation.

Ford reported that the number of unemployed in the Detroit Tri-County area rose by 17,000 in July to 150,000 or 8.7 percent of the labor force. The 8.7 percent rate was also the highest since July 1961, when 11.0 percent of the Detroit area labor force were unemployed.

The Detroit area followed the Michigan pattern in July. Employment in Detroit fell by 53,000 with about a 21,000 decrease in motor vehicle employment. Government reported an over 18,000 decline with most of the losses in the educational sector.

"Detroit, like the state as a whole, should show improvement in its unemployment situation during the next couple of months," he concluded.
